U.S. Forces Would Oppose Chinese Move, Dulles Hints

EVACUATED IN CALIFORNIA'S FIRES. Women and children rest in a Red Cross emergency station at a school in Los Angeles after being evacuated from the Angeles National forest where two of the worst forest fires in the history of southern California are raging. The twin blazes erupted in the San Gabriel mountains near Sierra Madre and, fanned by 70-mile-an-hour gales, have destroyed more than 1,500 acres of watershed.

Cut in City Bus Runs Approved By Councilmen

Trips Reduced on Two Routes; Action Taken To Help Save Concern

Financial plight of the Marion Transit Co. was discussed by Marion City Council last night and resulted in quick passage of a resolution authorizing certain changes in bus schedules and routes.

The changes are to immediately reduce service on the northeast and southwest loop routes from 20 minutes to 30 minutes and "if necessary" change the Center-Davids Sts. route from 20 to 30 minute service and also "if necessary" change the Mt. Vernon Ave. and Silver St. routes from 30 minute to one hour service.

Loop Extended

In addition the northeast loop is to be extended to include Van Buren, Jefferson, Mark, Greenwood, and George Sts. and the southwest loop to serve the new general hospital if this service is needed.

In other action, Council approved pay raises for four elected city officials and rejected proposed raises for themselves and president of council and unanimously defeated a resolution which would have approved construction of a power substation by the Ohio Edison Co. on the Laura Zachman farm south of the 900 block on Mt. Vernon Ave.

The bus company changes were requested by Floyd W. Kreisel president of the firm, in a letter submitted to Council at the meeting. It was quickly reworded into the form of a resolution by City Solicitor George A. Piacentino after Fifth Ward Councilman Don Quaintance reported quick action was needed to save the bus company.

He said merchants are concerned over the bus situation and reported that a meeting of merchants, city and bus company officials was held yesterday afternoon. The meeting was to discuss and get under way a plan to issue and sell $10,000 worth of stock in the bus company.

At yesterday's meeting, possible purchasers of the stock asked what the bus company proposed to prevent further financial losses, Quaintance reported. The changes by Kreisel were one plan to save money.

Save $800 Monthly

In answer to a question by Councilman-at-large Robert G. Haldeman, Kreisel said the proposed changes should save the company between $800 and $1,000 a month and "should put the company in the black."

Kreisel pointed out the company hopes it will not have to curtail service on the Center-Davids St. and Silver St. and Mt. Vernon Ave. routes. Schedules on these routes will be changed only if absolutely necessary, he said. Further decline in patronage on these routes likely would force the company to make the changes, he added. During "peak hours" the company would, even then, provide additional service, according to the resolution passed by Council.

Passage of the resolution was unanimous after Quaintance said, "It boils down to this, either Council is going to give the bus company every opportunity to make necessary corrections . . . . or there will be no bus company."

1,000 Battle Forest Fires in California

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mt. Wilson's valuable observatory and television equipment were still safe today as more than 1,000 men battled two forest fires in the San Gabriel Mountains.

High winds which fanned the flames yesterday had abated, but the fire creeping up Mt. Wilson was reported near the top and in places was estimated variously as from 200 yards to one-quarter mile from observatory structures.

11,000 Acres Burned

Some 8,000 acres had been swept in this area, and another 3,000 in the second fire 20 miles eastward, below Mt. Baldy, foresters said.

Approximately 2,500 persons have been evacuated from both regions, but a recheck last night showed the number of unoccupied cabins burned to be about 33. Earlier 136 cabins were reported destroyed in Santa Anita Canyon. The fire now menacing Mt. Wilson started there and spread to adjoining canyons.

Lower edges of this fire have from time to time threatened outskirts of Monrovia and Sierra Madre, foothill communities east of Pasadena.

Fire equipment from many towns—as far north as Bakersfield and south to San Diego—has been moved in to aid federal, state and county foresters.

Up to 1,000 Flee

The fire below Mt. Baldy is north of Claremont, and 700 to 1,000 residents in that vicinity were evacuated.

The Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co. reported its coaxial cable to the top of Mt. Wilson, where TV transmitters are located was still intact although in danger. Network officials have pointed out that loss of Mt. Wilson facilities would knock out Los Angeles area reception but would not affect network operations, which are piped East by another coaxial cable.

Late last night observatory personnel sent their wives down the mountain by one remaining safe route and joined the fire crews. Valuable scientific instruments, household effects from six dwellings and five automobiles were moved inside the double-walled steel dome that houses the 100-inch telescope.

Russia's Gold Exports Hit $65 Million Mark

LONDON (AP) — Another shipment of Soviet "hammer and sickle" gold bars—the fourth this winter—arrived in London last night. The shipment, valued at $4,200,000, was taken from the airport to the London branch of the Soviet State Bank.

Official sources said last week Russia has flown 65 million dollars in gold into Britain this winter. Financial sources said the Russians want British currency so they can purchase foreign consumer goods to bolster Premier Georgi Malenkov's drive to step up the Soviet standard of living.

Trustees Picked By City, County

Ten Men Appointed To Hospital Board

Establishment of a Board of Trustees for the new Marion General Hospital and tentative appointments to the board were announced at last night's City Council meeting by the County Commissioners and Mayor Harold F. Robinson.

The new board is for the purpose of accepting, controlling, and investing any donations anyone may desire to make to the new hospital whether it be in the form of money, furnishings, or other equipment.

Appointments to the board by the County Commissioners, which are subject to official approval of the commissioners, are Harry Gast, Arthur Haberman, William Campbell, Norris Heil, and Charlton Myers, all residents of the county. Appointments by Mayor Robinson are Robert E. White, Michael O'Brien, Russell C. Snare, Ray Geer, and John Stafford, all residing in the city .Mayor Robinson's appointments are subject to approval of City Council.

Announcement of the appointments by the County Commissioners was made on their behalf by City Solicitor George A. Piacentino.

Appointment of five members each from the city and the county was to provide equal representation of both political subdivisions on the board.

Leaders Meet Jan. 5

Ike's Bid for Democratic Assistance Hailed in GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Senate leaders today issued a back-to-work notice for Jan. 5—the day before Congress meets officially—and applauded President Eisenhower's bid for Democratic cooperation.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate GOP leader, said the Senate Republican Policy Committee would meet Jan. 5.

That is the same day on which Eisenhower yesterday invited Democratic leaders of Congress to the White House along with some Republicans for a preview of his State of the Union Message. He will deliver it to a joint session of Congress two days later.

"I think it's a good policy," Knowland said of the plan to invite the Democrats to hear something of the legislative program in advance. Chairman Ferguson (Mich) of the Senate GOP Policy Committee agreed.

Some Democrats had been grumbling because Eisenhower invited only the GOP leaders and committee chairmen to his legislative conferences earlier this month.

While several of them spoke kindly of the forthcoming talks to include Democrats, they said it was little more than a gesture since the President's message to Congress would be virtually completed by then.

"This is better than no consultation at all," Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) said. "I hope that the program has not been so permanently set that there will be no opportunity for acceptance of Democratic suggestions."

Rhee Urges U.N. Resume Korean War

Quit Talking, Defeat Reds in Final Decisive Battle, He Demands

SEOUL (AP)—South Korean President Syngman Rhee today called on the Allies to halt "futile discusions with the Communists" and join his nation in "the last great battle to annihilate the Red forces that seek destruction of the free world"

The fiery Korean patriot, in a New Year's message to his people that echoed his previous threats to unify Korea by force, asserted a decisive war with communism is "eventual and inevitable."

Pledges Rescue

A few hours earlier the aged leader pledged to North Koreans in a new year's greeting, "We will come to your rescue just as soon as we can."

He told the people of the Communist-ruled North "never do we forget, even in the nightmare dreams that haunt us in sleep, the terrible plight in which you are caught."

The strong statement appeared to give new life to his repeated threats in the last stages of the war last spring that South Korea would drive—alone if necessary—to the Yalu River boundary.

Rhee reminded Koreans he had agreed to a temporary halt in his aim to unify Korea and had promised the Allies to refrain from unilateral action for 90 days after the start of the Korean peace conference.

'Final' Breakoff

But the recent breakoff of negotiations to set up the conference, he said, "can be regarded as final."

"If the United States continues to maintain its present strong stand, we shall never have to wait another three or four months in an attempt to prepare for a political conference that is foredoomed to be fruitless," he declared.

"More than ever we are convinced that as long as the Chinese Communists are on Korean soil there can be no successful conference and no peace for our suffering country."

Rhee said it was his biggest wish that "our allies come to realize fully that the war in Korea" has a close link with their future safety from communism.

"Now to make certain that these sacrifices shall not have been in vain, we call upon them to conclude futile discussions with the

South Koreans Deny Stopping Prisoner Talks

PANMUNJOM (AP)—South Korea's foreign minister today assailed India for backing a report blaming South Korea for sabotaging the explanations to balky war prisoners.

"We are not surprised," Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tai declared, "because we know India will side with the Communists on all important issues."

Pyun's attack was the opening blow of an expected South Korean thunderclap against India's neutrality in the touchy prisoner situation.

India, the chairman of the five-nation repatriation commission, sided with Poland and Czechoslovakia in a majority report that accused South Korea of controlling compounds housing more than 22,000 anti-Communist North Korean and Chinese war prisoners.

Only a small number of the anti-Red prisoners ever met Communist persuasion teams in the 90-day explanation period. Those that did rejected return to their homelands by an overwhelming majority.

A minority report by Sweden and Switzerland blamed Communist explanation teams for dragging out the interviews sometimes as long as five hours.

Pyun told a news conference in Seoul he did not know what went on behind the prison compounds in the neutral zone but added, "I do not think the Communist charges are fully founded."

Ike To Answer Claim Business On Downtrend

President To Bid for Democratic Support In Drafting Addresses

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower, bidding for support of Democrats in Congress, today starts writing a reply to critics among them who contend business is on the skids.

Eisenhower was scheduled to meet at his Augusta National Golf Club office with two key aides who have responsibility for planning to avert any business downtrend.

Personal Adviser

They are Dr. Gabriel Hauge, the President's personal adviser on economic problems, and Dr. Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the three-man Council of Economic Advisers authorized by Congress after World II.

Hauge and Burns brought with them from Washington yesterday a preliminary outline of the economic report which Eisenhower will send to Congress shortly after the legislators reconvene Jan. 6.

The President arrived here Christmas Day to work on that report, the State of the Union Message he will deliver in person to the lawmakers Jan. 7, and the annual budget message. He also is writing the television-radio report he will make to the nation Monday night on the administration's first year in office.

Will Brief Democrats

Eisenhower's headquarters announced yesterday that a week from today in Washington he will give Democratic congressional leaders a preview of his State of the Union Message. Republican leaders — who already have been consulted on the message—will sit in at that session.

The announcement said special emphasis at the forthcoming White House meeting will be directed at winning bi-partisan support for the administration in the fields of foreign affairs and national defense.

Eisenhower aides added, however, that the President is just as eager for the cooperation of Democrats on domestic matters.

On the economic domestic front there have been some signs lately that the administration might come under attack in the new session.

Recession Claimed

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill), for example said last week that American business already is in the midst of a "real recesion."

In a debate with Douglas on that issue last Sunday, Hauge rejected the idea that business has slumped seriously. Hauge added that "we can still look pretty optimistically on the business situation this year and the outlook for next year."

Lima Probers Call for Ouster Of Police Chief

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—An investigating committee report called today for dismissal of Police Chief Kermit L. Westbay and disciplinary action against four policemen.

The three - member committee composed of city councilmen said vice and gambling operations had made the police department inefficient endangering the welfare of Lima citizens.

The report said Westbay, a member of the force 20 years and chief the past 10 years, used the "color" of his office to avoid payment of private debts incurred in the operation of a filling station he owns.

Other charges in the report said he violated civil service and department regulations in assigning officers and by failing to keep records of their efficiency.

An employe of Westbay's filling station, the report added, had on at least a dozen occasions received from two men, described as known vice and narcotics operators, envelopes he took to the chief.

Westbay received sums from individuals and firms, ostensibly for police welfare and equipment funds, the report said, but, it added, the money was not used for such purposes.

The investigating committee was created two years ago and received a $2,000 appropriation for its work.

Traffic Toll of 360 Over New Year's Predicted

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's traffic death toll over the New Year's weekend, the National Safety Council estimated today, may reach 360.

The council said its estimate was for immediate traffic deaths only and covered the period from 6 p. m. Thursday, New Year's Eve, to midnight Sunday (local time).

The council's advice to the possible 360 victims was: "A wonderful way to start the new year would be to start it!"

President Acts To Delay Rail Walkout Move

Strike Blocked for 60 Days by Appointment Of Emergency Board

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)— President Eisenhower today created an emergency board to head off a threatened strike of more than a million railroad workers represented by 15 non-operating unions.

The union members all are such employes as clerks and track walkers who don't work on the moving trains. The dispute affects 150 railroads operating throughout the country.

Can't Strike for 60 Days

Creation of the three-man emergency board means that under terms of the Railway Labor Act the 15 unions are barred from striking for a 60-day period.

Eisenhower's vacation headquarters here said the members of the board will be named in a few days.

During the 60-day no-strike period the board will hold hearings and recommend settlement terms. The last half of the two-month period is reserved for union-management negotiations on the basis of the board's findings.

Eisenhower's executive order setting up the board said the dispute threatens "substantially to interrupt interstate commerce to a degree such as to deprive the country of essential transportation service."

No Date Set

The 15 non-operating unions recently took a strike vote, after which it was announced that more than 90 per cent of the members approved a walkout. No strike date was set, however.

The unions have no pending wage increase demands but have asked for a variety of health-welfare and similar fringe demands.

The situation has been complicated by the fact that the rail-

Hit by Economists

Plans To Enlarge Social Security Setup Attacked

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Chamber of Commerce today found its proposal to qualify five million more older citizens for social security pensions attacked in an economists' debate as a "baby Townsend Plan."

The proposal, part of the Chamber's plan to put social security on a pay-as-you-go basis and halt federal aid for direct relief of the aged, was argued before two of the 10 economic societies in session here.

Favor 2 Per Cent Tax

All the speakers—including W. Campbell, research economist of the Chamber—agreed that the social security tax should be allowed to rise to 2 per cent as scheduled on Saturday.

President Eisenhower last year asked congress to freeze the contribution at 1½ per cent each on workers and employers. Congress did not act. Some have speculated he might again ask for a freeze, retroactive to New Year's Day, after Congress reconvenes. The boost would nullify the benefits of the income tax cut, also due Jan. 1, for many low income families.

Expect Decline

Evidence that professional economists believe the country is in for a mild recession throughout 1954 was the highlight of yesterday's sessions of the American Statistical Assn.

At one meeting of some 300 of the economists, the delegates indicated by a show of hands that they expect a 1954 production decline of 5 per cent or more from 1953's record.

This drop still would leave 1954

Warns Reds Not To Start Drive in Asia

Direct Intervention In Indochina, New Korean Fighting Cited

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles hinted today that U.S. sea and air forces will retaliate directly if Communist China openly intervenes in Indochina or renews the fighting in Korea.

In a news conference discussion of President Eisenhower's decision to pull two divisions out of Korea, Dulles emphasized that this government might meet renewed aggression in Korea or open intervention in Indochina by striking at the aggressor forces in places outside of Korea and Indochina.

New Weapons

He said that while American power in terms of foot soldiers in Korea is on the decline, its power in terms of other elements—obviously new weapons—is being increased.

Eisenhower himself had made much the same points when disclosing the decision to withdraw two divisions from Korea.

Dulles expressed confidence that available French and native forces in Indochina will deal effectively with the new Communist drive across Laos.

He said that nothing the Reds have done in this operation has altered appreciably the time table of operations by which the American and French governments hope to break Communist power in Indochina in a year.

Sees No Present Threat

Furthermore, Dulles said, he does not think that the Red drive presents any present threat to Thailand, bordering Laos on the west.

Some Congress members — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) for one—have expressed concern that Thailand might be invaded.

On other points Dulles:

1. Made clear that the United States, Britain and France will accept Russia's proposal that the Big Four foreign ministers' meeting in Berlin be held Jan 25 or later.

2. Disclosed he had planned to take up with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov at Berlin next week—in the meeting now delayed—arrangements for negotiation on President Eisenhower's atomic pool plan. He said that since the Berlin conference has been put off, some alternative way of taking up this question with the Russians must be found.

Modest Beginning Hailed

Dulles said the United States sees greater promise for international atomic agreement in a modest beginning than in some grandiose plan, as he called it, for solving all atomic problems at once. He said he hoped the Soviet government also will accept that view.

3. Expressed hope that Israel and Jordan will hold a face-to-face meeting under their armistice agreement to eliminate points of friction between them.

'Any invasion of Thailand would be considered highly critical," Knowland told reporters. "We could not stand by, If the United Nations did not take action, it could not survive."

Thailand must be protected against Communist invasion, he said, "unless the free world wants all Asia to go down the drain."

At the State Department yesterday, a spokesman said it is "watching that (Indochina) situation closely and awaiting further reports."

However, officials were understood to be working up a response to the Christmas Day complaint by the Laotian Prime Minister soon after Communist Vietminh forces climbed the mountains and struck out for the Thailand border.

The diplomatic way—the practical way, for that matter—is for the United States to await statements from countries immediately affected in such cases before issuing a public statement of its own.

Speed Disaster Relief

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Council of Churches is speeding relief supplies to victims of a Christmas Day fire that left thousands homeless in a village near Hong Kong.

Dr. Wynn C. Fairfield, head of the council's overseas relief program, yesterday ordered distribution of approximately 65 tons of clothing and 100 tons of dried milk.

St. Mary Sinks Elm Valley; Lexington Whips Radnor

Winners Play for Tourney Title; Losers Also in Action

By JOHN SHORT

St. Mary and Lexington will lock horns in the finale of the Marion Invitational Holiday Carnival tonight at the Coliseum. The two squads earned the crack at the title with wins in the opening round last night.

Lexington, defending carnival champions, whipped Radnor 53-29 in the opening game while Ray Robbins' Irish squad came from behind to belt Elm Valley 54-40 in the nightcap.

Tie Game

St. Mary managed to hold Elm Valley to a 13-13 deadlock in the first period but dropped behind in the second frame when John Humes and Walt Borchers combined to pull in 80 per cent of the rebounds from both boards for the Aces. The Elm Valley squad proceeded to build a 29-24 lead at the intermission.

The Irish attack perked up in the third period and the Elm Valley defense began to weaken. The Aces managed only four points during that period as Larry Ryan and Jack O'Keeffe began grabbing the rebounds for St. Mary.

Borchers was the only Elm Valley player to connect for points during the entire quarter. He hi on one field goal and two shots from the foul line. St. Mary meanwhile was building up a 38-33 advantage for the start of the final quarter.

Ken Paul's charges from Ashley were never able to find the range from the field in the closing stana and the St. Mary win was clinched early when Mike Anderson and Butch Merchant dumped in eight points early in the stanza to boost the Irish into a 46-34 edge. Robbins then pulled his usual five and cleared the bench.

Merchant Leads Attack

Merchant sparked the St. Mary attack with 16 points, 10 of them coming from the foul line. He hit on 10 of 11 efforts from the charity line. Anderson chipped in 12 points and O'Keeffe added nine. Borchers was the Aces' big gun with 13.

A total of 52 fouls were called during the game, 26 against each team. Both squads collected 22 points at the foul circle but the visiting aces hit only nine times from the field while the Irish were potting 16 field goals. Elm Valley scored from the field only twice during the last two periods.

Radnor took an early lead in the opening game and at the end of the first period, Dick Mayers' charges were in front 7-3. However in the second period the story was changed. Lexington's veteran performer, Dale Ford, began taking charge and the Minutemen gained control of the boards With Ford running the game, the Trojans dropped behind by a 19-14 count at the half.

By the start of the final period, the Lexington cagers had built up a comfortable 39-19 and were never threatened. Donnie Maxwell and Charley Gray managed to keep the game interesting but the taller Lexington club seemed to score at will. It dumped in 20 points during a wild third period and added 14 in the final while Radnor managed only five in the third and 10 in the fourth.

Ford was the high scorer of the game with 17. Bob Stone added 10 and Cliff Snedley had 12. Maxwell and Gray each collected nine for the Trojans. The Lexington win avenged a loss to Radnor suffered in the opening game of the season at Lexington.

A slim crowd of 560 paid fans watched the two tilts. In tonight's games the two winners will clash for the title with the losers last night meeting in a consolation game. Game time is 7:30.

Seixas, Trabert Grab Lead in Davis Cup Play

MELBOURNE (AP)—Tony Trabert and Vic Seixas, America's siege guns, crushed Lewis Hoad and Rex Hartwig 6-2, 6-4, 6-4 today to skyrocket the United States into a 2-1 lead over Australia in the Davis Cup Challenge Round.

This doubles event was of paramount importance to both countries, and strangely, the Americans had all but conceded it to the Aussies. Now the United States has a decided advantage in that it must win only one of the two remaining singles scheduled for tomorrow. They will pit Trabert against Hoad and Seixas against Ken Rosewall.

Captain Harry Hopman and the Australian selection committee gambled and lost by sending Hartwig into the fray instead of Rosewall, the youngster who dropped the second singles match to Trabert yesterday.

They must have known and regretted their decision almost at the start of the first set. From the beginning, it was apparent that Hoad and Hartwig were not teaming well.

Hartwig was completely inexperienced in Davis Cup competition and had a bad case of nerves. In addition, he never had teamed with Hoad in a major tournament before.

Hopman, however, was fearful of Rosewall's admittedly weak service, so he took the gamble.

Prexies Battle Red-Hot Arrow Squad Tonight

Harding's Prexies close out the 1953 portion of their basketball schedule tonight in Harding gymnasium against Ashland's high-flying Arrows.

Coach Jim Lawler's charges will be out to snap a three-game losing streak with their fifth victory of the campaign. The visitors bring a 5-0 mark here.

Ashland is currently one of the state's best hitting ball clubs. Coach C. E. Taylor's quintet has hit on 44.4 per cent of its shots while averaging 78 points per contest to its opponents' 50.

Pacing the visitors' attack again is Ken Sidle. The 6-5 senior center has garnered 117 points in Ashland's five tilts for a 23.4 average per game. He is pacing the Ashland shooting attack with 44 baskets in 75 trys for 58 per cent accuracy.

Sidle's deadly one-hand and soft hook shots last year accounted for 450 points and placed him on the second team All-Ohio. The tall center will probably be joined by Jim Dilgard, 5-10 senior, and Jack Miller, 5-11 senior at the forwards; and Larry Brewer, 6-0 senior, and Max Messner, 6-0 sophomore, at the guards, in tonight's tilt here.

Only non-letterman in the starting five is Miller. The other four cagers were on last season's Ashland club which posted an impressive 16-5 slate and won the sectional tourney here before bowing out in the district meet. One of the wins was a 70-56 decision over Harding. Sidle pumped in 19 points in that game to pace the A's offense. Brewer added ten. Sidle's brother, Gene, and Jim Roseboro, both missing from this year's squad, each hit for 15.

Also hitting in double figures for the visitors this year are three of the other starters, Dilgard, Brewer and Messner. Dilgard and Brewer on set shots have clicked for 69 and 58 points respectively and Messner has totaled 63 points. Miller has dropped in 34 markers while Tom Enck, 6-1 junior who sees considerable action, has added 23.

Ashland's record shows wins over Cleveland Lincoln 80-39, Bellevue 69-58, Toledo DeVilbiss 89-54, Galion 73-55, and Massillon 80-46.

Harding will be attempting to crack the win column for the first time after opening the season with four successive wins. Losses to Columbus West 74-71, Bowling Green 76-53, and Findlay 55-46 have lowered the President's mark to 4-3.

Wins from Bexley 61-47, Galion 72-38, Willard 96-35 and Columbus Aquinas 66-57 sent Jim Lawler's charges off to a fast start before the three straight losses.

Harding will probably go with Ron Conroy, 5-8½, and Don Smith, 5-7, at the guards; Dave Schnelker, 6-2, at center; and Doug Bibler, 5-7, and Bob Hamor, 5-11, at the forwards.

Conroy is currently sparking the Harding offensive attack with 109 points. Hamor has notched 72, Smith 67, Schnelker 65 and Bibler 57.

Boxing Marks 21 Fatalities in Ring for Year

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—A record number of 21 boxing fatalities in 1953 was recorded by Ring magazine in a copyrighted article appearing in its February issue.

The deaths were divided, 11 professional and 10 amateurs with only two pro deaths in the United States. Dick Miller died after a Worcester, Mass., about April 21 and Robert Lee (Bobby Donald) after a Miami Beach match Aug.18.

Of the 10 amateur fatalities, six occurred in the United States, including a U S. airman, a college boy, a Golden Glover, a reform school inmate and an AAU boxer.

In 1952, there were 17 deaths, a record at that time according to statistics kept by the Ring since 1930.

Nat Fleischer, editor, pointed out that New York set the pace for ring safety with new type flooring and experiments with a new type glove designed to stop thumbing and reduce the possibility of cuts.

Jets Slapped

Cincinnati Wins Important Games To Retain First Place

CINCINNATI (AP)—Every time a club climbs to the top in the International Hockey League, the Cincinnati Mohawks slap 'em down.

Earlier in the season, the Toledo Mercurys soared to first place. The Cincinnati skaters then booted them on the Toledo ice, 5-3.

Last week Johnstown was riding high. Both Toledo and Cincinnati slugged the Jets.

Player-coach Rolly McLenahan explained today why the Mohawks click.

"We kind of get keyed up for an important game," he said in an interview. "And we are a well balanced club. Anyone of our forward line can break out and score. We have no individual scoring ace, but all score well."

Defenseman McLenahan, 32, is the oldest player on the 15-man squad. They average 22 years.

Cincinnati, which won three and lost one in last week's battles, is now leading the league by 1½ games. Johnstown dropped to a second place tie with Troy, winner of two close games.

Toledo, in fourth place, was on top of three of its four contests. It has a New Year's Eve date at Cincinnati, with a chance to improve its popularity.

Fifth-place Grand Rapids split two games, both decided by one point. Marion saw action once, a 6-2 setback at the hands of Louisville. The seventh-place Stars dropped their other game to Grand Rapids. Fort Wayne also won one, lost one, to remain in eighth.

Milwaukee plays tonight and if the Chiefs lose, as they did three times last week, it will be the 12th straight reversal.

The next meeting of the lodge will be held Friday, Jan. 1 at which time the fellowcraft degree will be conferred.

Gabor Trio Signed By Las Vegas Club At $20,000 Weekly

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The Gabor sisters, a showy trio, tell their story again—at a reported salary of $20,000 a week—in a brief night club act here.

The sisters, Zsa Zsa, Eva and Magda, opened the act last night at the Last Frontier Hotel. They are on stage about 15 minutes.

This is long enough for one song, about their fortunes and misfortunes in love, and for a recital of their career as actresses.

Some first-night observers, commenting on the act's thin material, said the sisters' personal appearance was just that, and little else.

ROKs Seek Authority To Arrest, Try GIs

SEOUL (AP) — Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tai today said South Korea would seek a jurisdictional agreement with the U. N. command which would permit his government to arrest and try American servicemen.

Pyun said at a news conference his government would have a draft of the proposed agrement ready soon. He said it would be patterned after that between the United States and Japan.

Japan now has the right to arrest and try American military personnel for crimes committed outside of U.S. bases.

No American serviceman ever has been tried in a South Korean court.

BOSTON (AP)—Hey, boss, if you use this story on the front page of your newspaper, put it on the left side. A technical guy claimed today editors have been all wrong in believing the right side drew most attention of readers.

Herman F. Brandt, director of Chicago's Institute of Visual research, told a science meeting here that he first interviewed newspaper editors about how they thought their readers read the front page. Then he checked up on some actual readers, utilizing a tricky device called a "photo-electric eye camera" which showed where the folks were looking and for how long.

"It is apparent from the results of this study," he reported, "that the majority of the editors believed that the right side of the front page of the daily newspaper received a major portion of attention.

"The scientific research, however, showed that in spite of the fact a number of the editors would place their pictures and leading stories on the right-hand side, the reader still showed a decided preference for the left side of the page."

Pike Proposal Well Received

Alternate Plan for Northern Ohio Heard

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Rep. Ross G. Sweet (R—Lake) has suggested location of a turnpike north of U.S. 20 along Lake Erie to take the place of a proposed freeway through Ashtabula and Lake counties.

Sweet's proposal yesterday appeared a step toward releasing funds to survey a North-South Turnpike for Ohio.

The State Controlling Board is deadlocked over the question of releasing $90,000 to survey a Cincinnati-Conneaut route crossing the East-West Turnpike now being built across Northern Ohio.

Two members of the board reportedly would vote for release of the funds if Lake, Geauga and Ashtabula counties could be satisfied with a route for a second turnpike linked to the New York State Throughway by a toll road extension across an arm of Pennsylvania near Erie, Pa.

Sweet said location of a turnpike along Lake Erie through Ashtabula and Lake counties, swinging south of Cleveland to intersect the East-West road near Strongsville, would take the place of the freeway and save state and local governments a large investment of current funds.

Eisenhower Again Voted Man of Year by Editors

Tops Closest Rival, Sen. McCarthy, by Large Margin

By The Associated Press

Dwight D. Eisenhower, first Republican president since 1933, is Man of the Year.

News and radio editors in the annual Assiciated Press poll voted him the title overwhelmingly for the second successive year. His nearest competitot, Sen. Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin, got less than a third as many votes.

Leading Allied forces to victory in Europe, he was also high in the news rating. He won the title "Man of War" in 1944 and topped military leaders in 1945.

THIS YEAR HE moved into the White House in January. His position and policies have kept him steadily in the news ever since.

Early in the year the wisecrack that Eisenhower's cabinet was composed of "eight millionaires and a plumber" was widely current. Later the plumber, Martin P. Durkin, quit as secretary of labor.

His administration claims credit for the Korea truce, for curtailing government controls on business, simplifying customs regulations, planning extension of social security, exteding the battle against racial discrimination, simplifying government operations for economy in government and promoting a bipartisan international policy.

IN A DRUMFIRE of Democratic criticism, the headlines were not always favorable. He often was urged to repuditate "McCarthyism." The criticism was no less bitter because many Americans were ardent backers of McCarthy's methods, as reflected in his second-place ranking by editors.

He flew from a Big Three meeting in Bermuda to make a plea for use of the atom for peaceful purposes in an address to the U.N. General Assembly in New York City, Dec. 8.

He proposed that Russia and other atomic powers immediately create an international agency for the development of the atom for peace. The speech was widely hailed in the capitals of the free world. Russia countered with a demand for disarmament first.

REPEAT WINNERS marked the balloting for distinguished men in other fields.

John Foster Dulles was chosen the outstanding personality in foreign affairs in 1951 when he was working with the Democratic administration in the diplomatic field.

Now, two years later, as secretary of state in the first Republican administration in 20 years, Dulles is again awarded the honor.

A Republican, a church leader and an international lawyer, Dulles has been prominent in foreign affairs since 1945 when he helped set up the United Nations in San Francisco.

Trailing Dulles in the balloting were Sir Winston Churchill, British prime minister and Konrad Adenauer, West German chancellor.

TWO OTHERS to repeat their previous awards are Bishop Fulton J. Sheen in religion and Henry Ford II in business and industry.

Bishop Sheen, a Roman Catholic, was chosen last year, the first time the field of religion was put on the ballot . A top radio and TV personality through his "Life Is Worth Living" program, Bishop Sheen was closely followed in the voting by Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam.

Ford, at 36 the youngest man voted a place this year, is an oldtimer in the poll. He was selected in 1946, '48 and '49. President of the Ford Motor Co. and chairman of the family endowed Ford Foundation, Ford was named a U.N. delegate this fall. Last year's business winner, Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson, was second.

EDITORS VOTED a tie in science. Dr. Jonas E. Salk, 38-year-old director of the virus research laboratory at the University of Pittsburgh, shares the honor with Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey of the Institute for Sex Research at Indiana University. Dr. Salk developed a polio vaccine and Dr. Kinsey published his 842-page "Sexual Behavior in the Human Female."

Dr. Kinsey also got votes in the literature field, in which Sir Winston Churchill won by a landslide. Churchill, 1953 Nobel Prize winner in literature, published a sixth volume of his memoirs this year.

In labor, editors selected Martin Durkin over Walter Reuther, CIO head, by a narrow margin. Durkin, the only Democrat in the Eisenhower cabinet who supported Adlai Stevenson in the presidential campaign, resigned in September as secretary of labor. He said the President had broken an agreement to press for Taft-Hartley Act amendments, a charge the White House denied. Durkin returned to AFL Plumbers and Steamfitters Union.

CASEY STENGEL, sage skipper of the New York Yankees and only manager to pilot a baseball team to five consecutive world championships, was tops in the sports.

In entertainment, redheaded Arthur Godfrey, who touched off a raging controversy when he fired his singer, Julius LaRosa, during a radio and TV program, came in ahead. Interestingly enough, his runnerup was—Julius LaRosa.

Top Men Selected In Previous Years

Dwight D. Eisenhower, Man of the Year in 1952-53, is the latest in a line of prominent men to win the honor in the last 10 years.

In 1951 and 1950, Gen. Douglas MacArthur got the top vote of newspaper and radio editirs. In 1950, he was supreme Allied commander for occupied Japan and first commander-in-chief of the United Nations Forces. In 1951, he was fired by President Truman andn stripped of all command, although he remained a five-star general.

Judge Harold Medina, 1949's choice, presided at the trial of 14 U.S. Communist Party leaders, accused of advocating violent overthrow of the U.S. government.

Harry S. Truman held the honor twice: once in 1945 when he became president upon the death of Franklin Roosevelt, and again in 1948 when he was re-elected after polls predicted his defeat.

In 1947, George C. Marshall, then secretary of state, was Man of the Year.

John L. Lewis was awarded the title in 1946, the year his United Mine Workers went on strike for five weeks.

Frankln, Roosevelt was 1944's honor man.

DISTRIBUTES FUNDS

COLMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor James A. Rhodes yesterday allocated $1,145,721 in gasoline tax funds to Ohio cities and villages. Local officials urged the second December distribution to replenish depleted street maintenance and repair funds. Earlier this month, Rhodes distributed $3,705,843 in gasoline tax funds to counties, townships and municipalities.

What's in Store for '54

Boyle Tries His Hand at Crystal Ball

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — What lies in store in 1954 for all us survivors of the debris of 1953?

Well, our clouded crystal ball seems to have more smog in it than usual, but here are a few fuzzy forecasts of what you can look for in the coming year:

The sale of wheelchairs will rise and the sale of diapers decline, as the population gets a bit older.

Five new sure cures for falling hair will hit the market, and 10 million American men will go on getting balder and balder. More women will begin going bald, too, as their campaign for equal rights with men moves on to a new frontier.

A restaurant chain will feature a five-cent hamburger, served with a 3D polaroid lens to give it an air of realism.

A new breed of hunting dog trained to find a car parking space will be developed. This loyal animal, after locating a place to park, will bay the news to its master and fight off other motorists with its teeth until its owner can drive up.

The $2 haircut will make its appearance, and ten thousand editorial writers will lament, "Whatever became of the good old two-bit haircut?" Wives will begin cutting their husbands' hair

On Jan. 23 a man in Zanesville, Ohio, will claim he saw the first robin of spring. The next day Pravda will denounce him as a capitalist tool, and point out that the first robin of spring actually was glimpsed by a Russian serf on Jan. 4th near Minsk in the year 1602. Pravda will also recall it was the Russians who first invented popcorn, the five-cent cigar, Christmas tree lights and the safety razor.

Mink coats again will become popular in the nation's capital as people realize that this fur, once the badge of Democratic opportunism, now is a sign of Republican prosperity. As a matter of fact everybody will be wearing mink coats but the minks themselves.

As television sets get larger and new homes get smaller, a combined product will appear—a TV set which actually takes the place of a living room. You live inside it, and the screen serves as a window. You can add other rooms—a kitchen, a bedroom, and bath—as your family increases. The first model will sell for $5,000, complete with a free elm tree to shade it.

Science will come up with a cheap home hydrogen bomb kit. This will enable everybody who doesn't like the community he lives in to make his own bomb and blow his neighbors off the map.

Coach Frank Lahey and Casey Stengel will be rival strategists in the biggest contest of 1954—a match between Notre Dame and the New York Yankees. This will settle the hottest question in the field of sports—whether a top amateur football team can beat a champion professional baseball team. The game will consist of two quarters of football and five innings of baseball, and just to keep things even each side will have ten men.

The movies will make a real comeback in the entertainment world with still another gimmick—by adding a fourth dimension to Marilyn Monroe. Radio will fight television by putting mute sets with a screen that never lights up and on which you are positively guaranteed you will never see anything. You just look at it and enjoy your own thoughts.

The Army will come up with a new dehydrated combat ration in a plastic container. You remove the food, put it in your rifle and fire it at the enemy—then eat the container, which contains a drug to reduce overweight, cure hiccups, and give a soldier a feeling of general well being.

As to the problems of communism, international crises, taxes, the weather, and the common cold—they'll be as before through '54, and probably just as alive in '55.

DANGEROUS INLAND SEA

Japan's Inland Sea, one of the most beautiful waterways in the world, is in places one of the most dangerous, says the National Geographic Society. Tides twice a day rush in and out through a labyrinth of islands, reefs and hidden rocks, creating tide rips and whirlpools.

The Highlands of Scotland are about the same elevation as the Catskill mountains of New York State.

Such details as equipment contained in the kitchen, facilities of the gymnasium, size of the building, use of the various sections of the structure, and seating capacity of the school are handled in the article.

Illustrated with photos, the story gives a brief history of the construction of the school and calls the building "one of the best in the state for its size."

Also described in the article are some of the more elaborate departments of the building, such as the art and music wing, the homemaking department, and the scientific laboratories.

No More Heartbreak Ridges

There has been nothing grimmer in the annals of infantry warfare than the experiences of foot soldiers in the Korean war. They are the background for President Eisenhower's announcement that two army divisions are being brought home from Korea but that future aggression would be opposed with "even greater effect than heretofore."

This sounds like a clear warning that the United States has no intention of remaining committed to a large-scale holding operation in Korea in terms of land troops. The key to its ability to defend its non-aggression policy in Asia is the same in a strategic sense as its key to a no-aggression policy in Europe—an island bastion from which its strategic bomber fleet could back up a threat of immediate retaliation.

In Asia, the bastion is Japan, for whose security the United States fought the Korean war. In Europe, the bastion is England.

The Air Force equipment and personnel in those two places represent America's highest hopes of convincing would-be aggressors that the attack wouldn't be worth the retaliation.

Raise in Pay for Congress

The long-pending move to bring the pay of congressmen up to a level in keeping with the original intent of a high congressional pay scale is scheduled to reach a congressional vote early next spring.

This will carry out the original aim of giving representatives and senators enough salary to attract citizens of high caliber.

It will have been seven years next march since the last adjustment in congressional pay—seven years during which millions of the constituents of congressmen have had several pay adjustments.

But the strongest argument for an adjustment upward from the existing level of $15,000 is not based on comparison with pay levels for other Americans. It is based, rather, on the fact, standing alone, that members of Congress are not making out successfully on $15,000.

Everything about their cost of living is influenced by the fact they are members of Congress. They must maintain two homes and two offices. They must pay unusual expenses for travel. They must carry all the unusual obligations that go with membership in the legislature of a great country.

When their obligations begin to exceed their means, making it impossible for citizens of ordinary means to serve in Congress, the United States is in danger of paying a dear price for low congressional salaries.

It could pay congressmen enough to give them adequate financial leeway—say $25,000 a year—for less cost per capita per year than the price of a package of chewing gum.

Something To Say

A Londoner named Henry Bosworth died recently with an unusual distinction in his life span. Over a period of 60 years, 6,234 of his letters to newspapers had been published.

This marked him as a "chronic letter writer," But it also marked him as a correspondent who had something to say, or he never would have had a chance to pile up more than 6,000 clippings.

This is as good a chance as any to point out that this newspaper and newspapers generally always are looking for letters which have something to say.

They are the rarest of good newspaper material.

It doesn't matter whether or not the grammar and punctuation are in good order; these can be fixed. Nothing matters but the message. There is no substitute for a letter which says something over the signature of a reader.

Henry Bosworth must have held the world's record with his more than 6,000 letters which had something to say.

Herman Rowland's Discovery

Texans in the vicinity of Houston bridled and cussed when nine-year-old Herman Rowland of Lexington, Ky., noticed there were no cowboys.

"You see 'em on TV and in the movies," said Herman, who was in Houston for polio treatment, "but you don't see 'em here."

Young Herman has made what could be called a basic discovery.

You do not see TV and movie versions of newspapermen in newspaper offices.

You do not see the standard versions of South Sea island babes on South Sea islands.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police are not the way they are in the movies and on TV. Neither are real-life bad men the way they are represented as being in the never-never land of make-believe.

The Mounties are not glamorous and the bad men are not sinister.

The dreams that men live by are so much better than the real thing that most people prefer the illusion.

Herman Rowland has learned his lesson early.

In fact, a Houston cowboy probably looks like the TV and movie version of a Detroit auto worker who, in real life, looks like the never-never-land version of a tired businessman.

Price of Appeasement

By David Lawrence

Korean Withdrawal May Invite New Aggression

Announcement of the proposed withdrawal of two divisions of American troops — about 35,000 men — from Korea is a step fraught with possible consequences of the gravest character.

It could conceivably be the genesis of World War III some day, if Soviet Russia makes a miscalculation based on this decision by America.

For it is unprecedented in military history to find any nation which has been fighting a war and has agreed to an armistice suddenly announcing that it will withdraw a substantial number of its troops from the fighting zone.

If there had been a peace treaty signed or some pledge given against new aggression by the enemy, the withdrawal might be rationalized as having been required by a peace agreement in return for concessions of some kind.

But not only has there been no agreement on a time or place for a peace conference on the Korean question, but the very membership of the conference hasn't been decided upon.

THE TWO SIDES which fought the war are not even negotiating at the moment on any of these three points.

Just as Secretary Acheson in January 1950 by his speech which eliminated Korea from America's defense perimeter may have unwittingly encouraged the Communists to commit their aggression across the 38th Parallel a few months later, so the withdrawal of the American divisions today may be misinterpreted and new aggression begun in a few months.

Certainly the impact of the American decision on the morale of the Korean people and their army will be disturbing.

For America to start reducing her armed forces even before a peace conference begins is bound to be disconcerting to the Korean populace which will be apprehensive about another attack from the north at any moment.

IT IS TRUE that President Eisenhower has said that any such aggression would be met with retaliatory blows by American naval and air power, but the Communists know this is an empty threat. They are well aware that American sea power and air power didn't prevent the crossing of the Yalu River into North Korea by a million Chinese Communists, nor drive them out of North Korea — they are still there. Besides, Great Britain is on record as opposing any future operations beyond the Yalu against the enemy bases. Without permission to conduct a strategic air campaign against such bases, air power is not decisive, as three years of warfare in Korea have tragically revealed.

Is there any other possible explanation for President Eisenhower's move? The only one that makes sense is that the United States is anticipating shortly an appeal from the South Korean government for money and supplies to train and equip more divisions of its own to replace the Americans.

AT PRESENT the Korean government has 18 divisions of about 12,000 men each at the front and, together with its support troops, has about 700,000 men in all under arms. It costs America about $5,000 a year to support one of its own men in uniform, whereas Korea can do it for about a twentieth of that amount. What South Korea needs is about 1,250,000 men under arms to maintain the armistice line, and if that should cost the United States somewhere about 315 million dollars a year, it would be inexpensive insurance in maintaining the "frontier of freedom" in the Far East. Also, all American ground troops then could come home.

If the purpose of the Eisenhower announcement is to pave the way for a build-up of the Korean Army, and if this is soon made plain to the Korean people, the move will be regarded with enthusiasm there. Something has to be done to keep up the Korean morale, especially since it is now conceded by the American envoy, Arthur Dean, that the Communist Chinese government is integrating North Korea into the Manchurian economy. It is believed, moreover, that the Chinese Communist government is planning to make North Korea a part of Red China.

THIS FORM of annexation could happen if a peace treaty to unify Korea is never signed.

Possibly Mr. Eisenhower didn't know of the Communist intentions for a Christmas-Day drive across Indochina when he arranged for the withdrawal of the two American divisions from Korea, and sent Adm. Arthur W. Bradford and Assistant Secretary of State Walter Robertson to Seoul to explain the move to President Rhee.

Now that the Communists have completely disregarded the warning issued by Secretary Dulles last summer against further aggression in Indochina, it does look as if the Communists aren't taking any statements by the American government very seriously. This is the road to further aggression.

To cut Indochina in half at the 16 Parallel in the face of all the strong words issued by the American government and in the light of the United Nations' resolutions against aggression does make it appear as if Moscow and Peiping think the Americans and their allies are committed to further appeasement.

Appeasement in 1938 brought on World War II. The apeasement of 1953 in the Far East may be misconstrued by the Communists as weakness and could lead to a greater challenge which would make World War III inevitable. Appeasement never pays. It's always more costly in the long run than firmness at the decisive moments of history.

Goldfish Bowls

By TRUMAN TWILL

We were remembering the names and characteristics of old automobiles, which is a favorite pastime for men over 38. One of the rememberers had seen a report that a Frenchman has developed a 300-pound storage battery good for 65,000 miles of heavy duty driving and that this might bring back the electric car.

Here was a switch from the usual guess that if anything is going to come back from old times it's likely to be the steam car. Who knows? Maybe both will come back. But the electric should have the inside track.

It served a purpose that never has been served better by any of the go-devils which shoved it off the streets. It took a lot of shoving, incidentally, because there were a few of these old goldfish bowls still hanging around in the thirties.

With their high-domed bodies composed of more than 50 per cent glass, they provided more visibility than ever has been provided since. Their wheel base was about the same as the single-seated buggies they closely resembled. They could turn on a dime and two of them could be fiddled into one of today's parking spaces without raising a sweat.

They were designed solely for sedate matrons and elderly ladies who purred to an fro in them with a gentility unavailable at that time in any other vehicle.

It would have been unthinkable for the ladies to have driven one of the early Scatterbolts with all those noxious fumes and complex mechanisms but the girls grabbed the tillers of their noiseless (and virtually speedless) electrics without a qualm.

Between the electric runabout era and the era of electric forklift trucks which skitter about today on all kinds of hard-work assignments in industries lies the age whicch has been concurrent hard to believe an electric car might be built now which would run for thousands of miles with no greater overhead than the cost of plugging it into an electric outlet occasionally to beef up its voltage.

It is not hard to believe, when thinking back over the automobile age which has been concurrent with and in some respects part of the electric age, that a lot of things may be subject to change in the next few years.

We may be taking automobiles too much for granted.

No one ever took anything about the automobile age for granted when it was beginning. Potential buyers lived in an atmosphere of twittering expectancy from one model to the next.

It was believed likely that the new Dort which was going to come out in a few more weeks would upset all existing ideas about motor cars. Or that the Star would render obsolete everything the mightiest minds of the industry had done.

It was not until many years later that anyone would be heard to say there was nothing exciting in prospect as far as new automobile models were concerned—that nothing but the arrangement of the bright work was going to be changed.

One year it was four - wheel brakes. Another it was self starters. Ford finally offered a choice of colors—black and something else. Gaston Chevrolet startled the world with overhead valves. Some genius hit upon the bright idea of keeping the passengers warm with a heating device.

Every year something was revolutionary. Of course the changes weren't much more revolutionary than some of the things that come along now but always they seemed to be. On the interest they created, the automobile industry built itself from nothing into the backbone of the American economy.

Bricker Amendment Stands on Merits

By Raymond Moley

I have received a letter from a professor in a large American university taking me to task for my views favoring the Bricker Amendment.

Since the gentleman is a perfect stranger to me, and since the letter and an article accompanying it are obviously propaganda efforts to influence my opinion on a public question, I do not regard what he says as a private or privileged communication, although I shall withhold his name and that of the institution in which he is a professor.

In fact, the propaganda purpose of the communication is so stated. phlet will lead me "to take a somewhat different attitude."

HIS FIRST sentence is this: "It is natural that some columnists who are mere journalists should be misled by the ardent supporters of the Bricker Amendment, but I greatly regret that a former Columbia professor should be infected by their terror of treaties."

I shall not argue the Bricker Amendment in this piece although my views stand unimpaired after this attack. Not shall I stress the patronizing tone of the communication except to say that this attitude of some professors may explain why their institutions are having so much trouble these days.

I have had enough experience to know how that attitude grows with the seclusion in which a long academic life is more or less enjoyed. Incidentally, I am not "a former" professor yet.

IN THE SENTENCE I have quoted, the word "natural" appears. Another professor in this man's institution used to warn students against the loose use of the word "natural." In this case it is used to glide easily over a hard point of evidence.

There is nothing "natural" in the sense of an innate or habitual disposition of journalists to lose their balance in the presence of "ardent supporters' " of this or that.

I have found that the more ardent a person is, the more a good reporter will suspect the validity of his case.

There are good lawyers and plausible arguments on both sides of the Bricker matter.

The real reason why I favor it is based, not on anything I learned as a professor, beyond the plain meaning of the law before and after the Holland vs. Missouri case.

I FAVOR IT because in my contacts with the actual people who conduct foreign relations — as distinguished from the dream people used in much academic discussion —I have learned how fallible they are and, in particular, how ardently the members of the executive department will try to rid themselves of congressional restraints.

I also have learned how shocking have been the betrayals of the national interest by members of the foreign service in past years. I learned this by the hard way of 20 years in journalism.

I also might add, I hope without returning patronage in kind, that, unlike this professor, I served in the State Department for a period and know the actualities there.

"Mere" journalists are in contact with the government.

THERE KNOWLEDGE of its nature is more likely to be reliable because of that fact.

Finally, I would remind my correspondent that, after learning my trade in the two professions of teaching and journalism, I found the latter much more exacting.

This profession ought not be so contemptuous of "mere journalists" if he tried for a while to interest a million or more people several times a week and at the same time to be accurate and libel proof.

Immunity Cloak Fading

By Martin S. Hayden

A compromise offered by Sen. Ferguson has given a new turn to an Eisenhower administration search for an immunity statute to both protect ordinary citizens and keep Communists from using the Fifth Amendment to cloak subversive conspiracy.

Key to the Ferguson proposal is a grant to the federal courts of final power of decision as to when a congressional witness should be promised immunity from prosecution in return for required testimony as to his own and other persons' subversive activities.

The new idea has already been informally approved by Sen. McCarthy who joined Ferguson and other GOP leaders at a White House conference at which the President sought suggestions as to laws to strengthen the drive against domestic Reds. Attorney General Brownell is also ready to accept the new idea as an alternative for his own scheme to make the attorney general the arbiter of immunity requests from Congress.

Ferguson two years ago was the first Senator to suggest that Congress change the law to end the monotony with which investigating committee witnesses have snugly, and legally, refused testimony "on the basis of my right under the Fifth Amendment to refuse to incriminate myself."

"But since then," Ferguson said, "I have, as a former judge, been appalled at some of the suggestions for free-and-easy and wholesale immunity grants. After all, the power to grant immunity is a pretty dangerous weapon to hand casually to a legislative body."

The plan Ferguson would now have the administration espouse is patterned after the Michigan law which was in effect in the pre-World War II days when he sat as a one-man grand juror and conducted a clean-up of Detroit gamblers and politicians and policemen who accepted gamblers' bribes.

"Under the law," he said, "the prosecutor would prepare for the court record a list of specific questions and request me as the judge to order the witness to answer these questions and to grant to the witness immunity from prosecution for crimes on which the questions had bearing. If the witness disregarded the court order to answer, he was subject to punishment for contempt of court. At the same time, however, the questions and the immunity grant were specific; the witness was not, in other words, given an 'immunity bath' that wiped out all the crimes of a lifetime."

Under the Ferguson plan, a congressional committee would list the questions it desired a witness to answer and, by majority vote, request the nearest federal judge to force him to respond. Their counsel would, at the same time, make a showing to the court that the immunity request was based on a purpose of getting from the witness information more important to the nation than would be the prosecution of that witness on subversion charges.

Brownell has demanded that the law insure that no immunity be granted to witnesses when the Justice Department might be about to indict. Ferguson would achieve this by making the United States attorney a participant in the court's consideration of the congressional request.

Journey After Bethlehem

The shepherds were returning from the manger at Bethlehem now. They seemed more moved than ever by the experiences of the journey and the guidance of the star. Ephraim, the youngest of the shepherds, walking in silence beside Isaac, a very old shepherd recalled what had been said between them before the trip to the City of David . . .

"How shall we find the star?" he had asked in the early evening. "The heavens are so full of other lights, weird and terrorizing."

"It will be seen," said Isaac, "and above all other signs and portents."

"Look! What are those flashes that seem to make all stars so dim tonight?" asked Ephraim.

"They are the lights of messengers of death, destruction and desolation," said Isaac sadly. "They are things called jet planes, guided missiles and great bombers. There are, I have heard, things called flying saucers."

"Behold that blinding flash! What is that? Is it from a star?" asked Ephraim.

"A comet," replied Isaac. "A comet of annihilation and misery. It is called the atom bomb and seems very strange in the heavens at a time like this."

"Are they a sign to us?"

"They seem a sign of chaos and abomination," said Isaac. "But the star in the east is a greater light and more dependable. It is there!"

"I do not see it," said Ephraim.

"One must look confidently tonight," said Isaac.

"I have scanned the heavens and I see no trace of it," said the young shepherd. (He had been around only five or six hundred years and didn't know much about the world.)

"It will grow brighter," smiled Isaac, who was much older. "I have watched many nights of the Nativity when the star has been hard to see at first. This is not the first time, my boy, that other lights have seemed to extinguish it. Be patient! Watch! Listen.'

Ephraim, returning to his flocks now, recalled that the star had not appeared at a late hour and Isaac had said, "Come, let us start without it. For it will appear when its guidance is most needed." So they had started with the other shepherds, in the darkness, broken only by the ugly flashes of man-made things. And after awhile Ephraim had exclaimed, he now remembered,"Look! It is there! All the other lights are fading." And the same Voice had come, as always, "Fear not, for behold, I bring you tidings of great joy."

"Oh, Isaac," said the young shepherd now as they walked back from Bethlehem, "The star was brighter than ever. It blazed as I never saw it before."

"It was needed as seldom before," smiled the older shepherd. "It came late that its light might be more warming and uplifting. I myself thought it somewhat larger and more glowing than at any time, perhaps, in the past two thousand years. It is an odd thing about that star . . . its light is brightest in a time when things seem darkest. Young shepherds despair too easily."

These first few days after Christmas seem the saddest of the year. The consternation when a single light on the tree goes dead is missing, the eyes of th children are less sparkling; already some of the toys have lost their appeal and father shows less interest fooling with the mechanical boat in the bathtub.

This Christmas was a merry one
With presents extra hot . . .
The children's toys were quite the best
That Daddy ever got.

Saxbe Warns Of Attack on Truckers Tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The speaker of the Ohio House of Representatives yesterday urged Gov. Frank J. Lausche to stand firm against what he termed an attempt to wreck Ohio's new truck tax.

Rep. William Saxbe (R—Champaign) said:

"The truckers nationally realize that the mileage tax is the only genuine threat to their ability to run without checkup on mileage, tonnage and gross income, and that only under it are they taxed in a manner directly related to their use of the highway."

Saxbe said Illinois enacted a similar tax in 1951, but repealed it this year as a result of "conspiracy by truckers to wreck the law."

"The same plan is being attempted here in Ohio," Saxbe said.

AFL owner-truckers in 10 midwestern states have threatened a strike Jan. 15 if the axle-tax on trucks is enforced. Kentucky and other southern states have threatened to end tax reciprocity agreements March 1 unless Ohio includes the new tax in the agreements.

Lausche has refused to exempt out-of-state truckers. Under the tax, it costs trucks with more than two axles from one half to 2½ cents a mile to use Ohio highways depending on the number of axles.

The tax went into effect last Oct. 1.

A June wedding is planned by the couple.

Mrs. Docie Laucher and Mrs. Alletis Wharton were hostesses for the annual Christmas dinner of the ATM Club Dec. 18 at the Wharton home on E. Fairground St. Decorations throughout the house were in keeping with the holiday season and included a large Christmas tree. A gift exchange was held.

A special prize was won by Mrs. Virginia Weist, a mystery box went to Mrs. Mayme Callahan, and other games provided entertainment. Plans were made to help a needy family for Christmas. Hostesses for the January meeting will be Mrs. Edith Faurot and Mrs. Ruth Graham, both of Morral.

Retired Teachers Group Discusses Pension Law

Mrs. Dorothy Klehm of 175 N. Seffner Ave. was hostess for a meeting of the Marion County Chapter of the Ohio Retired Teachers Association Saturday afternoon in her home. Miss Florence Matthews was an associate hostess.

Discussion of H. R. Bill 5180, affecting the teacher pension law and election of officers for the coming year were major items of the business session at which Mrs. Klehm, acting secretary, presided. Later there was a social hour and music.

The bill, favored by the chapter, provides for the removal of federal taxes from pensions up to $1,500. The bill will be acted on early in January. A contribution of $5 was voted to aid in furthering the passage of the bill. Letters also will be written by the members to the ways and means committee in Washington expressing their views on the bill.

Officers elected were: A. M. Hornby, president; Miss Elma Lawrence, vice president; Miss Grace Wingett, treasurer; Miss DeEmma Hawley, assistant treasurer; Miss Arena Hinds, secretary; Miss Edna Finley, assistant secretary. Indian Finds His Tribal Customs Taboo in Court

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A 33-year-old Navajo Indian learned yesterday that tribal customs do not belong in a courtroom.

He appeared before Police Court Judge J. Patton Neeley on a drunkenness charge and when asked how many times during the year he had been arrested for the offense, he replied: "Twelve."

"Six months," pronounced the judge.

The Navajo scowled, and to further show his disgust, broke into a tribal dance.

"An extra 30 days," spoke the judge, "for contempt of court."

The 40-hour week has been established as standard in only two countries—the United States and New Zealand.

Church Activities

A large delegation of members from the Marion congregation were among nearly 700 who attended sessions of the three-day assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses which ended Sunday at Troy, O. Peak attendance was reached at the Sunday afternoon address in the Van-Cleve High School auditorium there when many visitors from the community joined the delegates to hear a district representative of the Watchtower Bible & Tract Society, L. L. Roper, speak on "What Is Your Destiny" He referred to gobal distress as headlined in news of the day, then outlined Bible prophecies "to show the Scriptural hope for the ills of this world."

—:—

Business and program for the recent meeting of the First Presbyterian Church Elizabeth Dairy Class were preceded by a covered dish dinner, and a gift exchange was included. Mrs. R. H. Kester entertained in her home on S. Prospect St., and Mrs. Lewis Uhl was in charge of the program. A letter from a former member, Mrs. Loy Cookston of Cocoa, Fla., was read. The next meeting will be held Feb. 8.

—:—

When the Christian Service Guild of Calvary EUB Church met recently at the Parish House, guests took part in the program. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blankenship presented the Christmas story by means of flannelboard illustrations, and Mrs. Rickard Zachman, in keeping with the study book, "Where'er the Sun," told how Christianity was started in Japan and how Christmas is celebrated there. A gift exchange was held in which secret sisters were revealed. Devotions were by Mrs. Laura Gaver, and Miss Doris Brading introduced those taking part in the program. Other guests were Mrs. Ruth McEldowney, Mrs. Sylvia Merriman and Miss Mary Jaycox. On the refreshment committee were Miss Ruth Zachman, Mrs. Virginia Penney and Mrs. Helen Clingenpeel.

—:—

Rev. Elmer Andrews, in home missionary work in Arizona, will speak at the Maranatha Bible Church Wednesday night on his activities with migrant laborers in that state. He is a former Marion resident and has relatives here. His home now is at Peoria, Ariz. He will be heard at the prayer meeting hour at 7:30.

Around Council's Table

Marion City Council last night adopted four routine pieces of legislation, discussed a request for a sidewalk cleaning franchise, heard a report by Safety-Service Director Ralph Forrest on improvements the last three years, and considered other matters.

Sewer Plans Okayed

A resolution accepting plans and specifications for the proposed Jefferson St. sewer improvement and lift station to serve the northeast section of the city was unanimously approved. There was little discussion of this resolution before adoption.

Third Ward Councilman Herman L. Rinehart, chairman of the sanitary and sewers committee reported his committee had studied the plans and approved them. The plans were prepared by Floyd Browne and Associates.

Rest Home Approved

Action of the City Planning Commission granting a permissive use permit to convert a residence at 333 N. Prospect St. into a rest home was approved by Council. The property is now owned by Frank V. Murphy and others. Council gave this legislation no comment and adopted it unanimously.

The matter was previously presented to Council at the Dec. 14 meeting and it was set for public hearing at last night's meeting. No one was present to object to the proposed use of the property.

Industrial Sewage

An ordinance authorizing the safety-service director to sign a contract with the Eaton Manufacturing Co. for treatment of industrial sewage wastes also passed unanimously.

The contract is for a two-year period renewable for a further two-year period. The charge to the company will be 16-cents for each 1,000 gallons, the ordinance stipulated.

Salary Appropriation

An ordinance providing for additional appropriation for salary of a clerk in the garbage department was passed unanimously. The additional appropriation was for $137.50 and was needed to pay the salary of a clerk through the end of this month. City Auditor Elmer Shaw said the original appropriation was short this amount.

Sidewalk Cleaning

The proposed plan for vacuum cleaning of sidewalks in the downtown area was made by William B. Noggle of 454 Bellefontaine Ave. He requested Council give him a franchise for this purpose.

In answer to a question by Council-at-large Thomas Clark, Noggle said that during the first month of operation he planned to clean sidewalks of all customers as well as those who did not contract for the service. This would give all an opportunity to observe the advantages of such a service, he said. He plans to sell the service to merchants in the business district at a cost of one and one-quarter cents a square foot of sidewalk each month.

A question as to whether the sidewalks in the city would support the weight of the machine — estimated between 900 and 2,000 pounds — was also raised. Safety-Service Director Ralph Forrest said he would check into this.

City Solicitor George A. Piacentino also pointed out there were certain legal problems involved and he was not certain whether the business would require a franchise or a license.

After more discussion, Fifth Ward Councilman Don Quaintance suggested the matter be referred to a meeting of the street and alley committee, Piancentino, City Engineer Thomas Cathers, and Noggle or his representative. Quaintance also suggested proper legislation be prepared by this committee and presented to Council its next meeting. Council President William B. Slack directed the street and alley committee to take this action.

May Buy Fire Truck

A discussion of needed repairs for a pumper truck housed at the W. Center St. fire station arose during a report by Safety-Service Director Ralph Forrest on improvements made in the city during the last three years.

Forrest noted increased revenue from city-operated farmland and also pointed to a number of sewer and street improvements along with the new sewage treatment plant and Marion Municipal Airport accomplished the last three years.

He reported also that the pumper truck at the W. Center St. station could be repaired but agreed with a suggestion of Council it would be better to purchase a new and modern fire truck to replace this truck now 27 years old. Cost of the new truck would be some $28,000.

Council took no official action but indicated it would consider the purchase of a new truck.

3 Members Lauded

The meeting closed after Quaintance suggested the three outgoing Council members, Lou Conkle, Fourth Ward, Tom Clark, at-large, and William Simmons, at-large, be commended for their work on Council. President William B. Slack also commended the three outgoing members for their "good and efficient work" and extended this commendation to all Council members. He announced also that councilmen-elect Warren Diehl, Richard E. Lister, and Ralph Williams will be welcomed into Council at swearing-in ceremonies for all Councilmen to be held in City Hall about 11 a.m. Jan. 1.

All Councilmen were present for last night's meeting. Councilmen-elect Diehl and Williams also were on hand. The invocation for the meeting was given by Rev. W. C. Eyster, pastor of Epworth Methodist Church.

James C. Woods of Star Honored by 120 at Dinner

Associates at Newspaper Fete Manager Who Retires Jan. 1

One hundred twenty present and former associates of James C. Woods, retiring business manager of The Marion Star, attended a dinner in his honor Monday night at Hotel Harding.

His retirement Jan. 1 will climax a 50-year association with the newspaper which began shortly after the turn of the century when he became a street seller for the paper. His full-time employment with The Star began March 4, 1904, when he was hired as office boy.

SERVING AS toastmaster for the dinner, which was held in the ballroom, was Thomas J. McNamara of the display advertising department. The committee of Star employes which made arrangements for the dinner included Delmas Jenkins, Miss Esther Williams, Miss Mary Lawrence, Miss Edna Dutton, W. E. Law, Miss Evelyn Kristoff and Mr. McNamara.

Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc. executives who attended the dinner included G. Gordon Strong, vice president and general manager; Joseph K. Vodrey, vice president; Henry R. Schaffner, general business manager; J. D. Raridan, executive editor; William J. Babb, classified advertising director, and Leonard R. Crossley assistant auditor, all of Canton, and William H. Vodrey Jr. of East Liverpool, assistant secretary.

Also coming to Marion for the dinner were C. L. Linham, business manager of the Canton Repository; J. D. Long, business manager of The Steubenville Herald-Star; C. V. Hughes, business manager of The East Liverpool Review; Miss Margaret Guthrie, secretary to Roy D. Moore, president and publisher of Brush-Moore Newspapers, and Miss Lois Carter, editor of The Typocycle, Brush-Moore house organ.

PRESENTING A gold wristwatch to Mr. Woods on behalf of Star employes was Mr. Law, and presenting a radio on behalf of the visiting Brush-Moore executives was Mr. Hughes.

Mr. Hughes, the principal guest speaker for the affair, gave a humorous talk on his long association with Mr. Woods and ended in a serious vein to wish Mr. and Mrs. Woods health and happiness in the years ahead.

Also speaking were Mr. Strong, Mr. Witter, Mr. Schaffner, Mr. Jenkins and Miss Dutton. In his talk Mr. Woods recalled many of his early associates at The Star, traced the development of the newspaper and thanked those present for the tributes paid him. Mrs. Woods and Mrs. Witter were among those introduced and Mrs. Woods spoke briefly.

Table decorations of red and white carnations arranged among Christmas greenery were used throughout the ballroom. Place cards were in the form of Christmas bells which doubled as nut cups. At each place setting was a "dummy" edition of Monday's Star with stories and photographs pertaining to Mr. Woods and his retirement.

Dinner music was provided by Goldie Swope, accordionist.

STARTING AS AN office boy on March 4, 1904, Mr. Woods two years later, at the age of 18, was promoted to the position of circulation manager by Warren G Harding, who then was publisher of The Star.

Mr. Woods assumed the post of business manager in 1927. He has served in this capacity continuously except for approximately two years when he went to Mansfield on assignment by Brush-Moore as publisher of The Mansfield News.

Mr. Woods holds membership in Kiwanis International, the Marion Club, Marion Country Club, and the Harding Memorial Association. He is a director of the Marion County Bank, and a trustee of the Boy Scout Camp Reservation, and is a York and Scottish Rite Mason.

HE AND MRS. WOODS reside at 700 Vernon Heights Blvd. They have one son, James C. Woods Jr., who is a member of The Star display advertising staff, and two granddaughters, Carolyn Ann and Susan Woods.

Succeeding Mr. Woods Jan. 1 as business manager of the newspaper will be Smith H. Witter, former Marionite who has been circulation director of The Canton Repository since 1946.

MANY PLEASANT MEMORIES of a long career in the newspaper business were recalled by James C. Woods and his older associates during the party for the retiring business manager of The Star Monday night at Hotel Harding.

UPPER: Two Marion Star employes who served on the committee planning the farewell dinner are shown with Mr. and Mrs. Woods. Left to right are Mrs. Woods, W. E. Law, Mr. Woods and Delmas Jenkins. Star employes presented Mr. Woods with a gold wrist watch.

LOWER: C. V. Hughes (left), business manager of The East Liverpool Review, is shown presenting a radio to Mr. Woods. Mr. Hughes, an old friend of Mr. Woods, made the presentation on behalf of executives of Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc.

Council

dinances calling for raises for council president and members came with little comment following a 10-minute recessed meeting behind closed doors.

City officials who will receive pay increases and the amounts are: Mayor Harold F. Robinson, $4,000 to $4,500 a year; City Treasurer Harry D. Cahill, $1,100 to $1,300 a year; City Solicitor George A. Piacentino, $3,600 to $4,000; and, Clerk of Council Mrs. Mayme Gorton, $2,400 to $2,700.

Council Raise Killed

The proposed raises for council president and council members would have been from the present $600 a year to $900. These measures were defeated by a unanimous vote and without comment. The approved salary increases were voted for by all Councilmen except retiring Councilman-at-large Tom Clark. He said he feels possibly all city officials deserve a pay rise, but there are also other more necessary uses for the money. These other uses include needed increases in the size of the police and fire departments, he said.

Fifth Ward Councilman Don Quaintance also objected to the wording of a clause in the ordinances providing for their passage as emergency legislation. At his suggestion the wording was changed to read "it is necessary to reestablish the foregoing salaries commensurate with the increased work load of the offices . . ." instead of ". . . increased cost of living . . ."

No indication was given why increases for Council were turned down. It was reported some Council members felt there was no justification in a raise for themselves or president of council.

The question of approval of construction of an Ohio Edison power substation in the southeast section of the city brought forth more discussion.

Fourth Ward Councilman Louis B. Conkle, chairman of the utilities committee, began the discussion with a report his committee had studied the proposal and unanimously decided to recommend a permissive use permit approved by the City Planning Commission be disapproved by Council.

He pointed out one reason for the action was that Council has always followed a policy of denying these permits where abutting property owners objected such as in this case.

E. L. Mitchell, attorney for the Ohio Edison Co. then spoke on the need for the substation and repeated statements made at the Dec. 14 Council meeting. He said location of the proposed substation was determined by an engineering survey and that the company has been planning the substation for two years including a year attempting to purchase a suitable site.

He said the company has already received complaints of lack of necessary power from residents in the southeastern section of the city and because of the growth of this section knows these complaints will continue and increase unless a substation is erected.

Harold Grigsby, division manager for the company, also spoke and affirmed Mitchell's statements. He added that the company has spent several thousand dollars in recent years developing a high power transmission system to serve the Marion community. The substation is a necessary addition to this system, he said. It would not be objectionable in appearance and would be enclosed with a fence and shrubbery and landscaped, he added.

Option Expires

In answer to a question by Clark, Mitchcell reported the company had agreed to pay $5,000 for the portion of the Zachman farm south of the 900 block on Mt. Vernon Ave. on which it desires to build the $105,000 substation. In addition it must pay $1,500 for right of way easements to the location, he said.

The company has an option to purchase this land only until Dec. 31, according to Mitchell. He said if the permissive use were denied Council must bear some of the responsibility for the resulting poor service not only in the southeast section of the city but all other sections as well.

He further indicated that the company may have to turn to condemnation proceedings to acquire the right to erect the substation. If this is done, the property to be condemned would be located on Mt. Vernon Ave., opposite Forest Lawn Blvd., he said.

Attorney Frank Wiedemann, representing one of the objecting property owners, John Gries of 999 Mt. Vernon Ave., suggested the company purchase an additional 300 feet of the Zachman farm and locate the substation as far south of the Gries and G. A. Dennison properties as possible. Mitchell replied this would be a waste of money for the company to purchase land of no value to it and would also remove some 300 feet of the total 600 feet of land from further use by anyone.

There was other discussian and rehash of previous statements by both sides after which Council unanimously denied the permissive use permit.

Buick Dealers Hold Area Meeting Here

Buick dealers and salesman for surrounding communities gathered for a district meeting yesterday at Hotel Harding.

They were told of the 1954 model which will be available in January. Approximately 35 dealers and salesman were represented from the Danner Buick Co. here and from Kenton, Upper Sandusky, Carey, Mt. Vernon, Mt. Gilead, Delaware, Bucyrus, New Washington and Galion.

Richard Wood of Columbus, district manager, was in charge of the meeting. It closed with a luncheon at 1 p.m. in Hotel Harding after the meeting opened with a morning session.

Attorneys for Six Selected by Court

Bernard Moloney was appointed to represent Bert Elswick, 37-year-old Marionite charged with first-degree murder in the Dec. 5 slaying of his 31-year-old wife, Violet.

This was one of five appointments made Monday by Common Pleas Judge Paul D. Smith of counsel for persons indicted by the grand jury and unable to hire attorneys for themselves.

Other appointments included Frank Phillips to represent Howard E. Edington, charged with breaking and entering, and attempting to force entrance to a safe; Eugene A. Yazel for Paul Sheller, forgery; Thomas Fetter for Iden S. Webster, fraud; and W. R. Martin for Virgil Gilmore, breaking and entering.

Rails

roads have filed suit in federal court in Chicago, claiming that under the railway labor law they are not compelled to bargain on many of the health-welfare and other union demands.

Some of those demands are:

Life insurance paid for by the railroads in a coverage sum equal to the worker's annual pay, with a minimum of $3,500; hospital, sickness and disability benefits for employes and their families; widely enlarged free pass provisions for workers and their families; premium payments for Sunday and holiday work, and increase vacation benefits.

George Leighty, spokesman for the unions, has said the pending suit filed by the carriers has angered the workers to a point where many of them want a strike.

The suits asks for a declaratory judgment saying the carriers don't have to bargain on the union demands for health-welfare and free pass demands.

Congress

scribed the Eisenhower invitation as a "belated recognition" that some Democratic votes will be needed to put over portions of the President's program in the closely divided Congress.

Rep. Rayburn of Texas, the House Democratic leader, said "I'll be glad to attend." He declined further comment.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, and Sen. Russell (D-Ga) were expected in the capital today or tomorrow. Both are among those invited by Eisenhower.

Knowland told reporters he would confer with Johnson as soon as the Texan arrives.

He voiced hope the Senate will get down to lawmaking as soon as possible. No business is ever transacted until after the President's message, but Knowland said he wants to avoid the "usual January drag" after that.

Extension Advisory Group Holds 1953 Meeting; 98 Attend

A total of 98 persons were present for the annual dinner meeting of the Marion County Agricultural Extension Advisory Committee at Claridon School Monday night. The dinner was prepared and served by the Salem Rural Evangelical and Reformed Church.

With Walter Mautz presiding, Mrs. LeRoy Shroats led group singing, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Fred Uncapher.

Five members were elected to the Extension Advisory Committee. They were Roy Lovett of Bowling Green Township, Mrs. Paul Dasher of Grand Prairie Twp., Mrs. Clifton Wenig of Montgomery Twp., Victor Kreis of Richland Twp., and Homer Kile of Tully Twp.

Miss Dorothy Gorby, home demonstration agent, gave a summary of home demonstration work, and told of projects for the coming year. Ellwood Parrott, associate agent, reported on the work of the youth groups. He also reviewed some of the dairy activities in the county.

Arthur Smith, agricultural agent, reported on adult organizations and activities in the county. Included in his report were the activities of breed organizations, livestock committees, and the Soil Conservation Service.

Main speaker for the evening was W. B. Wood, acting director of extension work in Ohio. His topic was "Looking Ahead in Extension."

After Wood's speech, Smith showed colored slides and told of some of his experiences while on his three months trip with the youth leaders from seven foreign countries.

Special music was supplied by an instrumental quartette from Claridon.

the nation's second and most prosperous year, but it contrasted with the expressed view of Eisenhower administration statements that the autumn dip in business activity is a "readjustment" of probably only a few months' duration. None of the economists, however, forecast the decline would progress into a serious depression.

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif), the Senate GOP leader, took issue with the view that a recession is in progress and with Sen. Douglas (D-Ill), who contends the government should be moving in with plans for further tax cuts and public works.

600 Attend Charity Ball To Help Marion Hospital

By EDNA S. DUTTON

Ringing down the curtain for 1953 was the 26th annual benefit dance given by the Woman's Hospital Board Monday night at the Hy-Way Rollarena.

With an attendance of more than 600 patrons and guests members of the board can chalk up another highly successful dance, the proceeds of which will go towards the support of the well baby clinic which they sponsor at the City Hospital.

AROUND THE WALLS of the hall were cleverly executed cut-outs of Santa and his reindeer and festoons of evergreen. Christmas trees hung with silver and colored discs were caught to the pillars and the improvised orchestra pit was a mass of greenery where Ross Halamay and his band gave forth with a program of danceable music from 10 to 2. The buffet table, arranged for refreshments, was decorated with poinsettia. Tables bordered the dance floor with a special place reserved for coeds.

Gowns of the women ran the gamut in colors, red, vivid blues, greens, purple, white and pastels.

Ruffles, matching the full white net skirt, tipped the front of a red velvet bodice of one of the dancers who tripped about in gold slippers and topping her dark hair was a white gardenia; a Titian haired out-of-town guest chose redwood for the shade of her nylon net over matching taffeta strapless gown. A rhinestone choker and earrings was the jewelry worn and completing the costume was a stole matching the dress.

MOST UNUSUAL was the Ceil Chapman creation of rickrack lace worn by a tall blond member of the board. Accenting the strapless bodice was a wide girdle of blue taffeta caught at one side with a voluminous matching bow and streamers extending below the short hemline. Two red roses made up the corsage pinned to one side of the bodice top. Another member of the board, who also was celebrating her wedding anniversary, wore a becoming dress of blue net and taffeta with a matching stole and for contrast carried a gold bag. A small red posy caught in a tiny black velvet bow marked the waistline in the back of a striking black lace costume over white ribbed silk, and another young matron chose to set off her gown of beige tulle and lace with a corsage of red carnations.

Setting off the auburn locks of a diminutive young matron was a black taffeta gown with a wide spread of skirt and a bodice neck line outlined with rhinestones. Complimenting the costume were rhinestone necklace and bracelet and silver slippers.

Pale gray lace over pink satin was accented with a billowing flounce and the wearer chose to complete her costume with pink roses pinned at the waistline, pink choker and matching slippers.

Christmas red was the striking costume of a member of the younger set home from college. The dress had a bouffant skirt and topping the bodice was a matching stole showered with tiny rhinestones. Gray tulle with an apron of glittering sequins had a red-throated orchid and red slippers for contrast, and a green cocktail dress with halter bodice was worn by a dancer choosing a horse-tail headdress, and accenting her costume with large gold earrings.

A WRIST CORSAGE of yellow rosebuds complemented a hooped gown of brown velvet and lace and the wearer of a royal blue gown, styled with a bustle back, chose for accessories rhinestone earrings and choker and a corsage of white flowers. A black velvet-trimmed gown of chartreuse had a gathered hemline, with a single black velvet bow to top the bodice and her rhinestone earrings matched the pin on her left shoulder strap.

Heavy white lace banded the off-the-shoulder neckline of a black taffeta full skirted costume and the wearer wore a single white flower in her hair. Copper taffeta and brown velvet fashioned the gown of a dancer wearing white orchids.

A gold choker harmonized with the bittersweet shade of a strapless lace gown worn by an attractive blond dancer, and at the same table was a tall blackhaired guest who chose to wear her hair-do in a bun at one side of her head and hold her coiffure with rhinestone pins. She wore a sleeved cocktail dress in black. A single white gardenia set off the floor-length gown of green taffeta worn by a board member whose black hair, parted in the middle was coiffed in a simple bun at the nape of her neck.

These and the many other equally attractive gowns made the dance floor a colorful picture throughout the evening.

MANY OF THE DANCERS came from dinners and cocktail parties. Home from her studies at Denison University is Miss Frankie Knapp who chose the dance as the time for a get-together for a group of her friends. With her brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. James Fortiner, she entertained at an early morning breakfast at the Knapp home on Bradford St. From out-of-town was Dave Jones of Medina, also a student at Denison.

Among the out-of-towners at the dance were Mr. and Mrs. John Austin of Pittsburgh, Miss Betty Davis of Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Cornelius of Evansville, Ind., Miss Jo Foreman of Crestline, Miss Edna Caudle of Mobile, Ala., Mr. and Mrs. Haver Alspach of Detroit, and home for the holidays 1st Lt. Robert Bowers, Navy Flight School at Corpus Christi, Texas, Dan Geran, West Point Military Academy, Jerry Taylor, Ohio State University, and numerous other college and university students.

Winner of the special award was Mrs. C. A. Moore, Olney Ave.

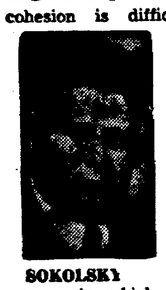
GOP Harmony

By George Sokolsky

The Republican party's major difficulty is that it has been so long out of power that intellectual cohesion is difficult to attain.



SOKOLSKY

President Eisenhower's three-day conference was designed to discover a basic philosophy of action which could be applied to legislation in the next session of Congress, in which the Republicans will be a minority in the Senate and barely a majority in the House.

This condition is only to a degree complicated by President Eisenhower's avoidance of political questions during most of his life, his inexperience with civilian government and his dependence during the first year of his administration upon assistants and advisers who are not particularly popular with the rank and file of his party and some of whom have no status in the party.

THE THREE-DAY conference therefore had the additional value of bringing him closer to the leaders of his party and the chairmen of committees of Congress upon whom rests the constitutional responsibility of carrying any legislative program to an effective conclusion.

From all accounts, these sessions generated more goodwill and unity of purpose than has been known for a year. Sen. McCarthy, who has been jousting with the White House, came away in good spirits, which Republicans hope may survive beyond the atmosphere of the moment.

Opposition to particular personalities in the White House entourage, namely, Sherman Adams, C. D. Jackson, Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, and William Rogers of the Department of Justice, will continue without, however, confounding relations with the President.

SOME OF THESE attitudes are a product of the past year; some go back to the 1952 Republican Convention and the "Thou Shalt Not Steal" slogan against Robert A. Taft.

It will be a long time before that will be forgotten and Sen. Taft's death has accentuated the feelings about it.

In essence, the Republican legislative program tends toward a balanced budget, reduction of military and foreign aid costs, a reduction of taxes without hidden replacements, a reduction of the manpower of the army so that fewer will be called for the draft, a review of the foreign policy so that it ceases to be a holdover from 1948 and relates itself to conditions in 1954 with emphasis on new political and economic developments arising out of the expansion of the Marxist universal state.

PARTICULAR heed will be given to domestic problems generated by the investigations of the McCarthy and Jenner committees which, together with the McCarran committee of the previous administration, have demonstrated that a successfully operated espionage corps has robbed the American people of their offensive and defensive weapons.

It has also been demonstrated that the tendency has been for officialdom, including the State Department, the Pentagon, the Treasury and even the White House to cover up espionage and subversion and to use existing laws in the interest of the cover-up.

These crimes against the nation are so shocking that any cover up comes close to collusion after the fact.

It will be Republican policy in Congress to pass legislation which will make the cover up more difficult.

If the Brownell wire tapping bill is passed, the FBI will be more efficient in the preparation of cases for indictment. Statutes of limitations on crimes involving espionage and subversion will probably be made to run longer or even be abolished.

THE ENTIRE problem of espionage will be reviewed and necessary legislation proposed to make it more difficult.

As it stands today, a case of espionage, fully proved or admitted before a congressional committee, is difficult to establish in a court of law under existing rules.

It would be preferable to try these cases in a court than to depend entirely for disclosure upon congressional committees.

The Eisenhower administration will continue to have to obtain some Democratic support which will undoubtedly be forthcoming for a constructive program.

Liaison between the White House and the Congress is in the hands of Gen. Wilton B. Persons and Jack Martin, who for many years was associated with Sen. Taft.

Gen. Persons and Jack Martin have had long experience with the Congress and have had to manage with Democrats as with Republicans.

Therefore, if there is a mood among members of Congress to support President Eisenhower these liaison officers can be depended upon to exert telling efforts.

As of the present, this three-day conference has produced only gains.

Cold Wave Riding South on Arctic Air

By The Associated Press

Arctic air from Canada pushed into the northern plains today and headed for the central part of the country. Temperatures of zero and below were forecast for wide areas in the north central states.

Light snow and strong northerly winds accompanied the mass of cold air and temperatures dropped below zero along the Canadian border early today. The light snow extended eastward across the northern Great Lakes region.

Rainy weather continued during the night in the southeastern part of the country from the lower Mississippi Valley eastward across the south Atlantic states except Florida. Light rain and drizzle extended northward into parts of the Middle Atlantic states and the northern Appalachians.

Outside the cold belt, temperatures generally were above seasonal levels in other parts of the country.

30 Applications Received Here

Restaurants Must File Today for Food Permit

Only 30 of the city's approximately 200 restaurant and other food service operation owners filed application with the city department of health Monday for licenses to operate after Jan. 1.

Owners have only until 4 p.m. today to file applications. Inspections of food service businesses will begin after Jan. 1. State law requires all food service places to have a license in order to continue to serve food after Friday.

Included in the list of places which are required to obtain the licenses are restaurants, hotels taverns, clubs, hospitals, vending machine companies which serve food automatically, soda fountains, lunchstands, company cafeterias, and all other similar places.

Licenses will not be issued unless owners first file application with the department of health.

Under the new state law, control and licensing of food servicing establishments is transferred from the state fire marshal's office to local boards of health.

Businesses in the county must file application with the county board of health. Those applications were sent to about 70, establishments Monday.

Establishemtns in the city, though, must apply to the city department of health. Cost of licenses in the city are $25 per year. Those in the county vary from $20 to $50 depending on the seating capacity.

Defense Department Reports on Manpower

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department, in its first monthly manpower report since the Korean War started, said yesterday there were 3,455,954 men and women in the armed services at the end of November.

This was the breakdown: Army 1,502,552, Navy 778,057, Marine Corps 251,770, Air Force 923,575.

The total was 229,000 under the Korean peak reached in April 1952. It was 51,000 under the figure for last Jan. 1.

Cox has been missing from his military police unit in Berlin since Sept. 22, 1949. He apparently was arrested by the Russians in the Soviet sector of the city, but they never had acknowledged holding him.

Mr. X Again

By Victor Riesel

I refer again to the mysterious Mr. X who had such great influence on ex-President Truman that he could come and go in and out of the White House with just a perfunctory telephone call announcing his arrival. I most respectfully recommend to Mr. Truman that he check Mr. X's record. If the former chief executive does so, he will discover that Mr. X overworked himself shortly after the Russian revolution in an effort to put Soviet Russia on its feet.

RIESEL

Mr. X counseled it on economic problems, organized a company to help build the Soviets industrially and bought stock in the corporation itself.

One of Mr. X's fellow stockholders in this Russia-American Industrial Corp. was none other than Nicolai Lenin — who was then directing the bloodiest terror, the wildest strike-breaking and the deadliest extermination of peasants the world had seen. To get a full picture of Lenin's terrorism at that time, read Eugene Lyons' new book.

I've never written that any book is a "must." Now I say that Eugene Lyons' "Our Secret Allies" is must-reading for it reveals the kind of Russia which Mr. Truman's close friend was trying to save in the early Twenties.

WHILE NATIONAL labor chiefs like John Lewis, George Meany and Walter Reuther make the headlines, an independent labor federation which is virtually unknown to the country is quietly but swiftly growing in size.

This is the unpublicized National Independent Union Council which is a central headquarters in Washington for some 2,000 unions outside the AFL and CIO.

Its new national chairman, picked at its convention in St. Louis last September, is Clarence Bennett, of New Haven, Conn. Bennett heads an independent telephone union which he says is the largest in that state.

There are rumors that John Lewis would like to see them join him in a new third labor federation. . . .

HOLLYWOOD'S FILM unions have been investigating "runaway" movie and TV producers who rush to Europe where labor costs are 40 to 50 per cent lower than ours.

Some AFL film people are particularly irritated by swash-buckling movie hero Errol Flynn, who has been shooting a picture in Italy for over a year — with labor supplied by the Communist General Confederation of Italian Labor (CGIL).

When the roving actor first came to Rome to make "Don Juan's Maestro," the anti-Communist Film Workers Federation met with J. Barrett Mahon, Flynn's business manager, to ask that the picture he shot with anti-Red labor. It was not.

Later, when Flynn started "The Adventures of William Tell," the anti-Communist Italian movie union protested to the Hollywood AFL Film Council.

AGAIN FLYNN used labor recruited from the sovieteering film union. Now, I'm certain Flynn is neither a Communist nor a Communist sympathizer. But, what sense is there in the U.S. Embassy people in Rome spending millions fighting Communism, when a celebrity like he-man Flynn, who breaks into the Italian press regularly with some exploit, patronizes an anti-American labor union. Particularly when, all the time, he could have the services of skilled anti-Communist technicians?

Flynn has just left the U.S. for Italy — with pledges of $500,000 from United Artists so he can finish shooting "William Tell." It would be a fine gesture if United Artists, which from now on will know of Flynn's policies, tells him to work with pro-U.S. forces abroad.

JIMMY PETRILLO'S feud with the smaller entertainment unions has reached the silly stage. One of the unions Petrillo hates worse than germs is the American Guild of Variety Artists. Last week, whenever national AGVA president, comedian Jackie Bright, walked on the stage of a Pittsburgh night club called Carousel, Petrillo's orchestra walked out. Jackie had to work his routine without music.

Teamsters Union president Dave Beck is on the road to cleaning up 15 of that union's trouble spots — by suspending local charters across the country.

In one area he discovered that business agents had shaken employers down for almost $200,000 —by threatening to deprive New York of one of its most vital foods . . . Beck, by the way, will not sign the no-raiding agreement between the AFL and CIO.

The teamsters leader said recently that this is a principled stand and not a prelude to raiding. Beck believes that the CIO, from the day it was launched, has been operating entirely in AFL jurisdiction.

Both George Meany and Dave Beck, incidentally, disagree with the CIO's proposals for a guaranteed annual wage and will certainly not support such a policy inside the AFL. . . .

WHILE JOHN LEWIS has been fishing in troubled waters around the riotous New York docks, violence has exploded in some non-union Pennsylvania coal fields. "Blasts from unknown causes" recently demolished $50,000 worth of coal tipples in Clearfield County and a reward of $10,000 has been posted by the non-union mine owners.

This brings the total of dynamiting and arson incidents in the area to 27 in the past two and half years. The owners have appointed a committee to go to Gov. Fine and the FBI.

On Resolutions

By Laura Hobson

"Never put off till tomorrow, etc," is an adage we all learn in our childhood, but by accident I just shuffled free of it, and feel as emancipated as as a cloud on a breezy day.

HOBSON

What's more the experience gave me a whole new clue about New Year's resolutions—and 1954 may turn into a much less ulcer-making scramble for me.

In a way, the "accident" was brought about by these columns, because it was the new routine of the daily deadline this fall that knocked endwise my lifelong habit of doing my Christmas shopipng so early that it was out of the way by the 10th of December.

THIS TIME, the 10th found me strung up on a deadline, and so did the 11th and the 12th and the rest.

Being the old-fashioned type about gifts, I never go in for proxy-presents, so I wouldn't let anybody do any of it for me.

The result was that for the first time, the day before Christmas dawned for me with almost no gifts about except those that had had to be mailed or shipped many days ahead, to friends and relatives and kids who live in other States or across the sea.

A good half of my list remained pure and pristine — unpolluted by those happy little checkmarks which are code for "taken care of."

Feeling harried and guilty, I rushed downown on that last morning—and straight into emancipation.

LAST-MINUTE shopping, it turned out, is heaven.

With all efficient, sensible customers at home, no doubt pitying poor fools who leave things for the 11th hour, many departments in the stores had no more than an everyday population of shoppers, and finding the right thing and getting it wrapped was a snap.

Only the tie and glove and handkerchief and perfume counters were crowded, and even there the line-up of the waiting was only one-deep, instead of the three-or-four deep you find during the weeks of the regular Christmas rush.

The sales clerks, who always arouse sympathy during the hectic hours of December, seemed to wear a blissful "almost over" look, and most of the customers did too.

ON BOTH SIDES of the counter, for the most part, was cheer and patience, and everybody seemed to radiate warm good will.

"Do your Christmas shopping late," therefore, sprang into my mind as the first of my resolutions for 1954, and as I walked home, arms loaded, in the brililant winter sunshine, I formulated a few other delaying tactics that might work the same peaceful miracle within me.

"Don't try to save more" was my second one — anyway not until there's a noticeable drop in the cost of food and taxes, in rent and boys' shoes, dentists' bills, bus fares, phones, penicillin shots, movies and TV repairs.

"Don't go to bed early." Ever since the advanced age of seven, when I first learned the joys of reading way past my scheduled bedtime, I've struggled to give those joys up. Not any more.

On Jan. 1, 1954, at long last, I'm going to accept the fact that for whatever reasons, I like to say up late, writing, reading,, visiting with frineds, or just wasting time—and that there's no good reason why I shouldn't.

In short, my new year's resolutions can be summed up in the words: Relax, take it easy, live a little's who's counting?

Three have announced for the Republican nomination. They are: Willard D. Campbell, former Guernsey County prosecutor, judge, state senator and director of the State Bureau of Code Revision; Francis Douglass of Cleveland, GOP Supreme Court nominee in 1950 and 1952 and Common Pleas Judge Leland R. May Be More Ideal Than Real

Ike's Program Rests on Shaky Ground

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is pinning his hopes on a situation which may turn to be more ideal than real.

This is his expressed ideal:

1. That Congress will approve the program he offers it next week. He has talked of it as a dynamic and progressive program.

2. That this program will then be the main issue in the November congressional elections — the voters' first chance since 1952 to pass judgment on his administration.

Yet, even if Congress should pass his program just as he wants it, by election time the voters may be influenced more by something else.

For example, a turn for better or worse in foreign affairs or a business slump which would involve production, prices, wages and jobs.

Yesterday a majority of 300 economists at a forum conducted by the American Statistical Assn. expressed belief the country is not only in a "recession" but that it would last through 1954.

(Later, Under Secretary of Commerce Walter Williams predicted business will maintain its growth in 1954.)

Or, as Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) predicted, the public may be so steamed up over the Communists-in-government issue that that will be the main one.

Since Eisenhower can only hope for what he'd like to see in 1954, the best he can do is go ahead and plan for it, even though his plans don't work out.

The irony of Eisenhower's situation is that he can't put his program over without the help of some Democrats.

In the Senate, there are 48 Democrats, only 47 Republicans, and 1 Independent. And not all 47 Republicans will follow the President down the line on everything, so he'll need some Democratic votes.

The same thing will be true in the House, where there are 219 Republicans, 215 Democrats, and 1 Independent.

The President particularly will need Democratic support for his foreign program, both military, economic and diplomatic. A realization of this, no doubt, is why he has invited Democratic leaders to the White House Jan. 5.

Earlier this month for three days he went over his program, item by item, with his Republican leaders.

He imposed a rule of silence on them when they left the White House. Because they've lived up to the rule not much is known about how much they agreed or disagreed with him. They'll make their views known after he delivers his State of the Union message, outlining his program, to Congress Jan. 7.

When he sits down with the Democrats, only two days before that, there won't be time for them to do anything but shake their heads up and down or from side to side.

It would be strange politics if the Democrats attempted to give Eisenhower guarantees of their support for his program.

If they went down the line with him on both foreign and domestic programs in 1954, as a party, they wouldn't have any issue to fight about in the elections unless before then other events pushed the program into the background.

The timing of the White House meeting with the Democrats would indicate Eisenhower is concerned more with courtesy in this case than consultation.

Forgotten Holiday Candle Causes Fire

A neglected Christmas candle caused a fire doing about $800 damage this morning. The fire happened at the home of Miss Vera and Miss Marie Stull, 292 Elm St. at 4:41 a.m.

Firemen reported the women had gone to bed after checking to see the lights on the Christmas tree were out, but apparently overlooked the candle on top of the television set.

The candle burned down, setting fire to the television set, then to the rug and mantle. In addition, the wall paper in the room was damaged, and smoke damage was done to the rest of the house.

Firemen from the Central Station fought the blaze for 34 minutes.

One other alarm was answered by firemen this morning at 3:09 a.m. at the corner of W. Center and Davids St. A car belonging to Richard Kepler of 708 Wood St. developed a short-circuit in the starting motor, setting fire to the wiring.

Firemen from the Central and W. Center St. stations squelched the flames. Damage was estimated at $10.

Kentucky Gets Top Rating in College Ranks

Out of a population of more than 200 million, these people may now number in the neighborhood of 40 million. These are the people who by their own efforts and talents or party favor—have been living better, getting a fair share of the good things of life. They include the empire builders in the farflung republics, a sturdy stock of stubborn colonists. All of these people are just as interested as their Western counterparts in maintaining their status and passing on the good things to their children.

The new government will not be able to handle them as easily as Stalin handled the population. For one thing, to build an industrial state, the Soviet government had to educate the masses, For another, the police power ff the central government has been damaged in the violent purge leading to the execution of L. P. Beria.

The Communist party is relying on propaganda. It preaches incessantly about Communist education of the masses, rooting out the survivals of capitalism and the remnants of private property psychology and morals."

The Malenkov Regime seems headed in the opposite direction. It is giving broad concessions to the peasants in the way of private initiative. It is tempting the broad masses with more and better goods for their own private ownership.

Ironically, this is the "bourgeois revolution" for which Lenin and Trotsky could not wait. Marx had laid down the principle that a feudal country, such as czarist Russia was, had to go through capitalist development before becoming a "dictatorship of the proletariat." The Communists nipped the capitalist development in the bud.

When the time comes to attempt to call a halt on this development, the Communist party may find it is too late. No longer able to rely on the ruthless methods of a Stalin in a society several generations removed from czarism and violent revolution, the party may find itself unable to check the trend. Already it exhibits a growing nervousness at the demanding tone coming from the people.

If the Soviet Union accomplishes in 10 years what it claims it will accomplish in three, it can become a mighty nation, indeed. But if it accomplishes these things, Russia is likey to be a changed nation, too.

Some old graves in Connecticut are covered with "wolf stones" which are flat stones designed to protect bodies from wolves.

No Music Appreciation, Wife Charges in Divorce

NEWBURYPORT, Mass. (AP) — Her soldier - husband's apparent lack of music appreciation figures in the divorce action brought by Mrs. Shirley L. Faulkner, 20, of Haverhill.

She charged in Probate Court yesterday that Albert G. Faulkner, 27, of Marlton, N. J., ruined her collection of phonograph records by "breaking up all the records I had in the house."

The uncontested action was taken under advisement.

Teen-Age Larceny Gang Smashed by Police in Atlanta

ATLANTA (AP) — Nine youths in the 14-16 age bracket have been detained in the county juvenile home by police, who said authorities had smashed a teen-age larceny gang.

Detectives J. W. Smith and J.E. Sikes said yesterday the gang's 15-year-old leader told them:

"Stealing a car is just like smoking a cigarette—you light up and puff on it for a minute or two, then you throw it down and reach for another one. You drive one car a block or two and then you are ready for another one."

Police said the youths told them they stole as many as four cars in a single night to go joy riding.

Ten stolen automobiles, four motor scooters and an assortment of hub caps and other items were recovered.

Star of Silent Films Divorced by Fifth Wife

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The fifth wife of silent film star Kenneth Harlan was free today of marital bonds. Actress-singer Helene Stanton, 25, obtained a divorce yesterday from the 58-year-old Harlan on grounds of cruelty.

But it was a "real friendly" divorce, the actress told newsmen outside the courtroom.

"It is just too bad we didn't get along," she said. "He's really very nice. Matter of fact, I think I'll take him out to lunch."

The couple was married in 1949 and separated last April.

Falling Hayfork Pins Boy, 13, to Barn Floor

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Thirteen-year-old Gerald Sturk was stabbed in the hip and pinned to the floor of a barn by a falling hayfork yesterday.

Rhodes Asks Governor Call Ohio Assembly

Repeats Demand for Special Session To Act On Race Track Curbs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A demand for a special session of the general assembly to pass legislation to curb what he termed horse race meet irregularities was made again yesterday by State Auditor James A. Rhodes.

Rhodes said he made the plea in a letter to Gov. Frank J. Lausche because the Ohio Racing Commission failed to request a special session for that purpose.

The commission meets today to assign track dates for the 1954 racing season and to act on proposed changes in racing regulations designed to tighten controls at tracks.

Rhodes' letter insisted immediate precautionary action must be taken to protect the citizens of Ohio from "the influx of criminals, racketeers and hoodlums . . . ".

Earlier, Rhodes recommended fingerprinting all track employes and hiring stewards who would be paid and employed by the state. Tracks now hire and pay stewards under commission license.

The auditor said irregularities uncovered in recent track operations made changes necesary to protect the public.

Rhodes has been feuding with commission chairman Zoltan Gombos of Cleveland over track regulations. Gombos was appointed by Democratic Gov. Lausche, who recently announced for a fifth term.

Rhodes is a potential Republican candidate for governor who said he may run if the "grass roots" demand is strong enough.

The state auditor wants the special Jan. 11 session of the Legislature broadened to handle the racing legislation. The Jan. 11 session was called at the mandate of voters who favored a 500 million dollar highway building program.

The island of Jersey in the English channel has kept the breed of dairy cattle of the same name through laws forbidding cattle imports dating back to 1763.

Stalin Death, Kidnaping Of Greenlease Rank Next

By PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Pess General News Editor

In the little mud hut village of Panmunjim, a desolate and forsaken place in a strife-torn world, the most momentous story if 1953 was written.

There, on July 26, the hard-bargained Korean armistice, an uneasy truce that stopped the slaughter of hot war in a dangerous atomic age, was signed. It ended 37 months of killing that exacted a toll that hurt all over America—25-604 Americans killed, 7,955 missing with many of them feared victims of unspeakable atrocities, and 108,718 wounded.

A heartache that prolonged war's agony in many homes was the fate of 22 American boys, who either because of deep convictions or because of relentless brain washing, still had to make up their minds whether to come home or to stay perhaps forever behind the Iron Curtain.

NEWSMEN, participating in the annual Associated Press poll to determine the 10 outstanding stories of the year, chose the Korean truce as the biggest news of the year of headlines that found seven of the top 10 concerned with death and violence. Only the sudden death of Joseph Stalin and the succession to his power in Russia by Georgi Malenkov came close to the truce story in the balloting.

It wasn't the death of the man but what the free world hoped would happen that made Stalin's death a tremendous news story. The 73-year-old Russian dictator, who dominated a third of the world's peoples, died March 5. Death followed a brain hemorrhage, said the announcement, which pleaded for unity. Free world pulses quickened in expectation of either a revolution in Russia or a drastic change in policy as Malenkov imprisoned Lavrenty P. Beria, head of the Soviet blood purge police under Stalin. But Soviet stiffening returned. Except for occasional concessions, the cold war was back in the deep freeze stage of Stalin's days.

THE KIDNAP SLAYING of Bobby Greenlease of Kansas City, a crime that shocked the nation, was the third biggest story. The story of how the 6-year old boy was kidnaped from an exclusive Catholic school and brutally murdered even as his frantic 71-year-old multimillionaire father gathered the requested record-breaking ransom if $600,000 probably had more emotional impact than the famous Bobby Franks kidnap-murder of the twenties in Chicago.

The Franks case was one of perversion and sadism; the Greenlease kidnap and murder by a dissolute playboy wastrel and his alcoholic mistress was an outrage of brutality. Carl Austin Hall and Bonnie Brown Heady, his mistress, received the death penalty as aroused Missouri justice moved in record time.

ELIZABETH II was crowned queen in June. It was the first coronation of a woman since Victoria 116 years ago, and newsmen ranked the glorious accession as the fourth biggest story of 1953. More people than ever before saw Britain's queen crowned because of the modern wonder of television.

Spy hunters were active all year and getting headlines, but it wasn't until November that the greatest hue and cry was raised. On Nov. 6, in an unheralded speech before a businessmen's club in Chicago, Attorney General Herbert Brownell accused former President Harry Truman of appointing the late Harry Dexter White to a high government post despite an FBI report that White was a Communist spy.

TRUMAN, REJECTING a subpoena by the House Un-American Affairs Committee, made a dramatic denial over national TV networks, called Brownell a liar and denounced what he termed "McCarthyism" without naming the Wisconsin senator, Joseph R. McCarthy. The din of charges and countercharges, climaxed by the appearance of FBI Cchief J. Edgar Hoover in testimony to support Brownell's charge that the White House had been warned about White, was the fifth biggest story of the year.

Dwight David Eisenhower became America's 34th president on Jan. 20 but newsmen ranked that story sixth as against No. 4 for Queen Elizabeth's coronation. His inauguration brought to an end a 26-year era of Democratic rule and embarked the GOP on its "Great Crusade."

JULIUS AND ETHEL Rosenberg, silent and without emotion to the end, died in Sing Sing's electric chair June 19 for betraying atomic bomb secrets to Russia.

Perhaps the longest continuing story of the year, it was ranked seventh by newsmen.

On July 31, Senator Robert Alphonso Taft of Ohio died, victim of a relentless cancer that ravaged like wildfire. His death stunned the nation, and political friend and foe alike paid the great Republican leader unstinted tribute for his honesty and service. It was the eighth biggest story.

Beria's ouster was rated the ninth biggest story and the Berlin rioting and food giveaway program, which probably quickened his downfall, rated 10th.

The Top 10 Stories

1. Korean War truce and prisoner exchanges.
2. Stalin's death and Malenkov succession.
3. Greenlease kidnaping.

6. Eisenhower inauguration.

New members of the Chamber of Commerce Retail Board of Managers headed by John Schaffner took office yesterday at a meeting at Hotel Harding.

Schaffner, of the Schaffner Furniture Store, replaces Al Hamburg of Lord's Jewelers as chairman of the board. Sam Babich of The Baby Shoppe is vice chairman.

It marked the first meeting of the new board which was elected earlier this month.

Re-elected to the board for 1954 are Babich, C. R. Campbell, Don Flach, Hamburg, H. A. Hertenstein, Charles Osterholt, John Pickerel, Don Quaintance, Schaffner and James Weir. New members are Robert Bintz, Richard Gage, John Head, D. J. Sansotta, and Hyman Shapiro.

Those who retired from the board were Walter Axthelm, John Ryan, William Hamor, K. E. Maxwell and Don Utz. Ex-officio members of the board are Donald Grace and Robert T. Mason.

Reports of 1953 activities and promotions were made at the meeting presided over by Mr. Hamburg. The new board announced its first promotion, February Dollar Days, to be held Feb. 25, 26 and 27.

It was announced that retailers would meet Monday, Jan. 4, at 7 p.m. at the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. to remove the Christmas decorations from the streets. The telephone chain warning, a new program started early in 1953, was discussed and termed a success by the Retail Merrhants.

Mr. Schaffner will announce subcommittee appointments soon.

Charges To Be Filed In Springfield Shooting

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Authorities plan to file charges today against a 32-year-old man they say admits fatally shooting a drinking companion Christmas morning.

Clarence Skaggs of Springfield, a small, ruddy-faced laborer who has served several prison terms for burglary, yesterday confessed the slaying of Lonny R. Thompson, 18, of Springfield, after a barroom argument, police said.

He told a reporter he argued with Thompson over "matching for drinks," went out into the alley with him and shot Thompson after Thompson knocked him down.

Jane Russell Calls Off Appearance at Premiere of Film

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Jane Russell cancelled a scheduled personal appearance but St. Louis police reserved some seats for the premiere today of the controversial movie "The French Line."

The film was released by Howard Hughes' RKO studio in defiance of the film industry's self-censoring Breen Office.

In calling off plans to come here for the premiere of the movie in which she is featured, Miss Russell said she agreed with the Breen Office and that she doesn't want to be associated with any movie denied a seal of approval.

Catholics of the St. Louis Archdiocese have been advised to boycott the film, believed to be the first released by a major studio without Breen Office approval.

Chief of Police Jeremiah O'Connell said the police morality squad would be on hand for the movie, said to have been rejected by the Breen Office because of a costume worn by Miss Russell and a dance sequence by her.

Cincinnati Waitresses Vote To Go on Strike

CINCINNATI (AP)—Members of an AFL Waitress Union voted 10-1 yesterday to strike at the stroke of 12 New Year's Eve unless their hotel employers sign a new contract. The city's major hotels would be affected by the walkout.

Bartenders and other hotel employes also are considering striking. Issues involved include pay increases and health and welfare benefits.

Favorites Win

Wildcats Dump Minnesota For 115th Straight at Home

By ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Favorites for the most part came through with victories in the opening rounds of the widely spread collegiate basketball tournaments last night but it was Kentucky which won the game of the night to justify its new position as the No. 1 team of the country.

The Kentucky Wildcats, elevated to the No. 1 spot in the Associated Press poll yesterday, gained revenge for Mnnesota's snapping of their winning streak two years ago as they whipped the Gophers 74-59. It was No. 7 in the Wildcats' unbeaten string and six-ranked Minnesota's first setback in eight starts.

In winning their 115th straight home game, the Wildcats were paced by Frank Ramsey's 23 points—a scoring feat matched by Minnesota's Richard Garmaker.

The tournament competition, scattered from New York to Portales, N. M., produced victories by such highly rated quintets as Duquesne (No. 2), Oklahoma Aggies (No. 5), Western Kentucky (No. 7), North Carolina State (No. 9), Oklahoma City (No. 11) and Rice (No. 16)

The chief surprises were the defeats of Oregon State, lone conqueror of third-ranked Indiana, in the Dixie Classic at Raleigh, N.C., and Kansas State, favorite to win the Big Seven tournament at Kansas City.

Duquesne, with Jim Tucker scoring 23 points, defeated previously unbeaten Brigham Young 69-47 to enter the finals of the Holiday Festival at New York's Madison Square Garden. Their opponent tomorrow night will be the Niagara Eagles, who defeated La Salle for the second time this season, 69-50, after holding the Explorers to 14 points in the first half.

Both the Oklahoma Aggies and Oklahoma City won at the All-College Tournament in Oklahoma City with the Aggies throttling Mississippi, the highest scoring team in the country, 59-42, and Oklahoma City downing Furman 82-70.

Western Kentucky (10-0), the winningest team among the country's major schools, ousted Houston from the Louisville Invitational 91-61. North Carolina State's Wolpack, favorite to take the Dixie title now that Oregon State is on the sidelines, edged Seton Hall 72-70. Oregon State lost to Duke 71-61 although its 7-foot-3 center, Wade Halbrook, counted 23 times.

Rice put the Texas Aggies out of the Southwest Conference Tourney 55-43. Kansas State was sidelined by Nebraska in the Big Seven competion 78-74.

Spartans End Scrimmage for Battle of Roses

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Michigan State has staged its last football scrimmage as both the Spartans and UCLA move into the final supersecret phase of their Rose Bowl preparations today.

MSC Coach Biggie Munn had his squad belting each other around for nearly 1½ hours yesterday afternoon.

"That will be the last scrimmage before the game," he said. "We can't risk any more injuries. It was a good, long tough one too." Munn said he was pretty well satisfied with the progress of his squad.

"We've got to be satisfied," he said. "All the hitting is over now."

Michigan State settled down to serious work in the afternoon after the 44-man squad toured a movie studio where they had a chance to hobnob with film stars.

The 36-man UCLA squad has moved into the privacy of the Towne House in downtown Los Angeles and will only leave there now on trips to the practice ield.

UCLA had its last scrimmage—a brief one—last week.

UCLA Coach Red Sanders said he had a long passing drill Monday. "Paul Cameron was throwing some good ones," he reported.

Munn, in announcing his tentative starting lineup, switched back to his regular first string.

Michigan State supporters swarmed into Los Angeles and made a milling crowd around the team headquarters as two special trains carrying nearly 1,000 rooters arrived from Lansing.

There was a block-long line Monday waiting or the MSC ticket headquarters in Los Angeles to open. Meanwhile a telegram of good wishes signed by more than 3,000 MSC supporters—said to be the longest received at Pasadena—arrived at the team headquarters.

AUTOMATIC TROPHIES

MONTREAL (AP) — There is no voting connected with the Vezina Trophy or the Art Ross Trophy in the National Hockey League. Both are won automatically at the end of each season. The Vezina Trophy is awarded annually to the goalie who has played the most games for the team with the fewest goals scored against it. The Art Ross Trophy goes to the player winning the N.H.L. scoring title. Both awards are accompanied by a $1,000 prize from the league.

Ex-Harding Cagers Prepare for Action Here Friday Night

Ken Somerlot, athletic co-ordinator for Harding High School, today announced the alumni game scheduled during the school holiday would be held Friday night. Game time has been scheduled for 8:15.

Somerlot said that starting time had been selected in order to allow all former Harding cagers to watch the telecast of the Rose Bowl football battle before taking part in the cage action.

The game will be played at the new Harding gym and Howard Gilbert is in charge of lining up the former Harding stars. Somerlot reported the game had been scheduled after several Harding graduates asked to be allowed to help the school's athletic department. A 50-cent admission charge for adults and 25 cents for students will be charged, with the proceeds being used to defray the costs of an automobile crash in which several of the Harding cross country runners were involved last fall.

Bill Smiley, ace of last year's squad, will be one seeing action. Others reported ready for action are Dick Underwood, Paul Geissler, Robbie Miller and Eddie Porter of the 1951 team, Jack Daum, Dean Ludwig, Dan Day, Dick Bender and Gen Winters of 1950, Merle Daum, Dick Leffler, Richie Wolfe and Don Hoffman of 1949, Bill Buckingham, 1948, Elvin Beach, 1945, Fritz Guy, 1944, Gilbert 1941, Russ Reichardt of 1940.

Somerlot continued he was trying to contact several other former cage stars at Harding. He mentioned Maury Whitcum, Dick Mulvaine, Gene Shellhorn, Bill Hero, Dwight Ruby, Elmer Busler, Gerald Strauss and Harold Garver.

Maryland's Leader May See No Action

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Maryland may try to defeat Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl without the injured Bernie Faloney, the quarterback Coach Jim Tatum once said meant the difference between a great and a mediocre Maryland football team.

Tatum announced after yesterday's last hard workout that Charley Boxold would start for Maryland in Faloney's place, "And we'll see if he can carry the load."

If Boxold fails, Faloney will be sent in to try to fire up the team, but it's a question how long his injured knee will stand up under attack. He was taken out of Maryland's last game against Alabama with torn knee ligaments.

Eddie Mathews of the Milwaukee Braves hit 30 of his 47 home runs on the road during the 1953 National League season.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was hit by a selling spurt today and prices were knocked down from fractions to around 2 points in key sections of the list.

The cause for the selling, Wall Street brokers said, was profit-taking, the same thing that was largely responsible for the market's decline yesterday.

Yesterday was the first time that sales of stock could establish a profit that can be taxed at the new lower 1954 income tax rates. Stocks sold now are normally delivered in the new year.

Many have been waiting until the first opportunity to sell at a profit in 1954, and they did. Others who were waiting for the most favorable opportunity to sell were rushed into selling when they saw prices declining.

Selling targets were in the steels, motors, railroads, aircrafts, and issues with a hand in atomic energy development.

The market started lower and continued down with trading gaining speed in the second hour. The selling spent itself by the third hour when there was a partial recovery from the lows.

Volume hit a pace of around two million shares for the entire day. Yesterday's total was 1,570,000.

Lower stocks included Santa Fe, Standard Oil (NJ), American Telephone, Union Carbide, Du Pont, Westinghouse Electric, General Electric, U.S. Steel, Chrysler, Boeing, United Aircraft, Zenith Radio, and Admiral Corp.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

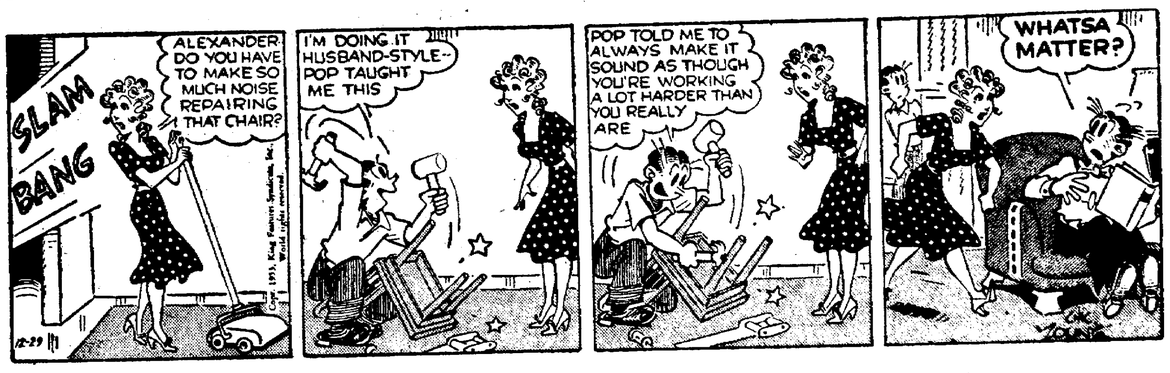
STEVE CANYON By Milton Caniff

STEVE, THAT WAS A TERRIBLE THING TO DO...
I SAID YOUNG GIRLS RECOVER EASILY FROM GOODBYES!
YOU MIGHT THINK I MEANT THAT AS A POINTED REMARK, TO INDICATE THAT I, AS A NOT-SO-YOUNG FEMALE, WILL NOT RECOVER EASILY FROM SAYING GOODBYE TO YOU
YOU MIGHT THINK THAT I COULD-EVEN FOR A BRIEF MOMENT—FORGET THAT I AM MARRIED TO A WONDERFUL MAN! YOU MIGHT ASSUME THAT I WOULD DO SUCH AN UNTHINKABLE THING AS BEING ROMANTICALLY DRAWN TOWARD ANOTHER MALE...
MUCH!
FROM WHAT I SAID, YOU WOULD HAVE LICENSE TO INFER ALL THOSE THINGS—
BUT I WOULDN'T DREAM OF ALLOWING YOU TO WALK OUT OF OUR LIVES HARBORING THAT IMPRESSION!

THE HEART OF JULIET JONES By Stan Drake

DUSTY JUST WON'T UNDERSTAND THAT A DOCTOR HAS OBLIGATIONS TO HIS PATIENTS. SURE, IT MAKES FOR A HECTIC HOME LIFE, BUT SHE SHOULD HAVE FIGURED THAT DETAIL OUT BEFORE SHE MARRIED ME.
I WONDER—AND REMEMBER, YOU AGREED TO LISTEN TO ME—IF YOU THINK IT'S EASY FOR HER TO CHANGE HER WHOLE WAY OF LIVING IN A COUPLE OF SHORT WEEKS!
I HAVEN'T THE TIME TO GIVE HER A LECTURE COURSE IN HOW TO BE HAPPY THOUGH MARRIED—HEY!! WHY ARE WE STOPPING HERE?
IT'S A FLOWER SHOP—MARCH IN, DR. DAVIS!

BLONDIE By Chic Young



SLAM BANG
ALEXANDER DO YOU HAVE TO MAKE SO MUCH NOISE REPAIRING THAT CHAIR?
I'M DOING IT HUSBAND-STYLE—POP TAUGHT ME THIS POP TOLD ME TO ALWAYS MAKE IT SOUND AS THOUGH YOU'RE WORKING A LOT HARDER THAN YOU REALLY ARE WHATSA MATTER?

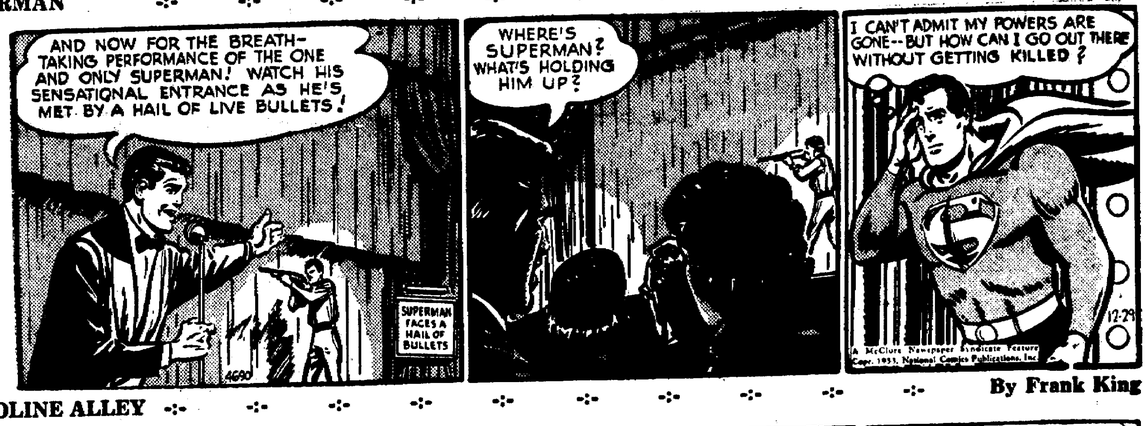
DICK TRACY By Chester Gould

THESE ROCKS HAVE ME BAFFLED WITH THEIR HEAVY SHADOWS.
HAVE YOU GOT AN EXTRA GUN? LET KINCAID THROW ONE OUT AND LET'S SEE WHAT HAPPENS TO IT.
IT'S AN OLD .38. I'VE CARRIED IT IN THE POCKET OF MY CAR FOR YEARS. GO AHEAD. THROW IT.
IT'S FALLING PRETTY STRAIGHT. NO SIDE DEFLECTION TO SPEAK OF.

RIP KIRBY By Alex Raymond

I'VE GOT TO GET READY TO GO TO THE CLUB, BUNCO. NOW WHY DID SHARP SEND YOU HERE?
AW, THAT WAS JUST A LITTLE GAS SO'S YOU'D LEMME IN, JENNY. NICE PLACE YOU GOT HERE...
WELL, LET YOURSELF OUT, BUNCO... IT MUST BE TIME FOR YOU TO STICK UP A BASSINET OR SOMETHING!
ANYBODY'D THINK YOU DIDN'T LIKE ME, BABY. NOW, HOW ABOUT A NICE KISS FOR BUNCO?

SUPERMAN By Wayne Boring



AND NOW FOR THE BREATH-TAKING PERFORMANCE OF THE ONE AND ONLY SUPERMAN! WATCH HIS SENSATIONAL ENTRANCE AS HE'S MET BY A HAIL OF LIVE BULLETS!
SUPERMAN FACES A HAIL OF BULLETS
WHERE'S SUPERMAN? WHAT'S HOLDING HIM UP?
I CAN'T ADMIT MY POWERS ARE GONE--BUT HOW CAN I GO OUT THERE WITHOUT GETTING KILLED?

GASOLINE ALLEY By Frank King

What's going on? I thought Christmas was over, Hope.
The girls had a shower for me. Isn't it grand?
They gave me a bed jacket and layette and a book on "How to" for mothers.
It's a good start for both of you.
I didn't have an invitation, but I don't want to be left out.

JOE PALOOKA By Ham Fisher

I COULDN'T GET HIM TO OPEN THE WINDOW.
YELL DOWN THE CHIMNEY.
HALOOOooo
EEEEE I... T-TOLE Y-YA..
H-HALP...IT IS A GHOST.?
EASY... DON'T BE SILLY!

TERRY AND THE PIRATES By George Wunder

OH, GOLLY! LO SUN'S CHOW AND THE FIRE DID IT. I'M IN LINE FOR SACK TIME, MADAM D.L.
YOU AND CHARLES MAY MAKE YOURSELVES COMFORTABLE HERE, TERRY.
THE DRAGON LADY WILL SHARE THE SLEEPING CHAMBER BEYOND WITH O'HARA.
YOU GO AHEAD AND PUT UP YOUR HAIR, GAL. I'LL BE ALONG LATER...
AS SOON AS THE KING OF THE LAGGARD LOTHARIOS AND I HAVE HAD A NICE, COZY CHAT.
